the current open season. The trophies were bagged by Bartlett, Wiley, and a hunter not pictured. The sheep on the right, shot by Wiley, measured 31½ inches, possibly the third largest ever taken in Texas.

Aoudad Sheep Hunters Have Moderate Success

The 1972 aoudad season, at the three-quarter point, has provided hunters in Randall County at least moderate success, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department figures. Reports from the three checking stations early Wednesday indicated that 35 of the trophy animals had been taken during the first five days of the season. At Palo Duro Canyon State Park, officials said seven aoudad had been brought in. At Quitaque, 22 kills were reported and at Claude, officials had checked 6. Because animals killed in the four-county area could have been checked at any of the three stations, it was impossible to get an exact success figure for Randall County, a game management spokesman said.

By mid-afternoon Tuesday four hunters, working out of the Lighthouse Canyon Ranch managed by Roy Reynolds, had bagged their animal. They were Bob Bartlett, District Attorney of Van Zandt County near Dallas; C. B. Wiley of Wills Point; B. C. Schaefer of Canton; and Scott Smith of Earth.

Wiley, owner of an exotic game and gun ranch, said he had been on many big-game hunts throughout the country. "This one has been the best," he told The News. "The people here at the ranch have been wonderful... the guide service is tremendous."

According to Wiley, he and the other hunters had come on the hunt through contact between their county judge and Randall County Judge Woody Pond.

The animal killed by Wiley measured 31½ inches, considered extremely large when compared with the world record, including the aoudad's native Africa being just over 34 inches. It weighed 208 pounds after dressing.

The largest animal ever taken on the Lighthouse Canyon Ranch was killed by Reynolds in 1966. It measured 32 inches and is believed the second largest ever measured in Texas.

The aoudad, described as more goat than sheep, was introduced into the Palo Duro area in 1957 when the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department stocked 42 of the imported animals. Since that time, the herd number has grown to about 600, as estimated by Reynolds. And according to Wiley, "Reynolds should know more about how many there are

Rotarians Have Itch For Flea Market

A flea market for local residents to sell everything from white elephants to handmade crafts and artwork will be sponsored by the Rotary Club in early December.

Conway Kuykendall, chairman of the flea market committee, said the market will be held on Saturday Dec. 2 at the Randall County Junior Livestock Barn in Canyon.

The Rotary Club will furnish tables for the flea market.

Only one application for license to sell alcoholic beverages has been filed in Randall County clerk's office this week.

Mrs. Dorothy Meehan, owner of the Personality House, 4557 S. Western in Amarillo, filed application Monday afternoon.

At least nine other applications are expected this week.

Mrs. Meehan's application to sell beer and wine was filed after she made original application with the Alcoholic Beverage Commission office in Amarillo.

The City of Amarillo certified the application was not in violation of existing zoning ordinances or other applicable laws.

A public hearing on Mrs. Meehan's application is scheduled at 2 p.m. Friday in the county courtroom. Judge Woody Pond will preside and must make the decision on whether the license will be issued.

Mrs. Meehan was all smiles as she filed her application here Monday.

A consistent backer of the sale of alcoholic beverages in several years worth of local option elections, Mrs. Meehan has been a moving force behind petitions calling for such elections.

She said she hopes to receive her license by next week when she will begin selling beer and wine.

Her permit, if it is issued, will be the first issued in many years in Randall County, which

Bufs End Season Against NT Eagles

West Texas State University's football team ends its season at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Texas Stadium against the North Texas State Eagles and much is riding on the outcome.

A Buffalo victory Saturday night in Irving would give Coach Gene Mayfield's team a 500 season at 5-5. A victory would also give the Buffaloes a 4-1 record in the Missouri Valley Conference race.

Drake, which leads the MVC race with a 4-0 record, must close its season next week against Louisville in Louisville. Should West Texas be able to defeat North Texas and should Louisville stop Drake, the Buffaloes could own a share of the Valley title.

But Mayfield and his staff are more than slightly worried about the Eagles of North Texas. In the first place, the Buffaloes have yet to win a game on the road this season. They have won their four home games and lost their five away games.

Injuries slowed the Buffaloes in Saturday's 20-7 loss to the University of Texas at Arlington. Offensive guards Allen Mullins and Mike Delaney were slowed with ankle injuries and Billy Taylor, another offensive guard, had a sore shoulder. Mayfield has hopes that those three guards will be stronger this week.

The Buffs played last week without two starting backs—fullback Billy Pritchett and halfback Jimmy Lisle. Pritchett, who has been out of action for three games, started running again Monday, but his status is still unknown early in the week. Lisle had a hamstring injury and his ability to play by Saturday is not known.

The Buffaloes suffered four turnovers—two interceptions and two fumbles—in the first half Saturday at Arlington and the Mavericks took advantage of those for 10 first half points. West Texas moved to the Arlington nine and eight yard lines in the opening half, but unable to score.

Another item of worry for the (See BUFFS, Page 5)

Group Continues Petition For 23rd St. Controls

Canyon's Jaycees collected almost 200 signatures Sunday night on petitions which call for the city commission to install turn lanes and turn signals at 23rd Street and 4th Avenue.

Robert Ezzell, officer in the newly formed Jaycees chapter, said members of the group will probably canvass other parts of the city again Sunday night.

"It rained Sunday and we only got out for about three hours," he said.

Nevertheless, Ezzell said the petition circulators received favorable reactions from all but a few persons asked to sign the petitions.

"I would say there weren't over five or six outright rejections," he said. "We've run up against some opposition and it's still on the parking business."

City efforts to install turn lanes and signals along the length of 23rd street two years ago brought howls of protest from a handful of businessmen with interests along the highway. They complained the elimination of parking, which had been proposed in connection with the installation of the turn lanes, would hurt their businesses.

And, they felt so strongly at that time that they circulated petitions calling for an election to decide whether turn lanes should be installed. A small turnout of the voters defeated the proposed changes.

"This petition is not to call an election," Ezzell stressed. "It's to show the city commission and ourselves how much interest there is in the community to get something done and to show them whether they need to do something down there."

More Sedate Role Foreseen For Buffalo Lake Refuge

Two years ago, Buffalo Lake, long a fisherman's paradise and favored spot for picnickers and campers, was a foul-smelling, murky and stagnant pond.

So rank was the pollution in Buffalo Lake that even carp were dying.

The lake was closed to recreational activities two years ago, and a group of experts from the Texas Water Quality Board pondered what to do with the lake.

That question was left unanswered and the answer and the original problem have taken care of themselves in time.

Buffalo Lake dried up shortly after the water quality board met here. The carp died and the pollution went the way of the water.

Now, with good fall and spring rains, Buffalo Lake is on its way to restoration. And, with restoration have come new ideas on changing goals and purposes at the lake.

Paul Ferguson, manager at the wildlife refuge, said this week that fishing will be allowed for the first time in several years beginning April 1, 1973.

About the only animals who didn't abandon Buffalo Lake during its years long period of transition were the birds.

More than 50,000 waterfowl—ducks and geese, primarily—are already at the lake this fall and many more are expected this winter.

Throughout the long dry spell for the lake, refuge employees continued to conduct their winter waterfowl tour. The tour is scheduled in January this year.

Today's Buffalo Lake covers only about 460 acre feet and the lake is still shallow, but Ferguson hopes that situation will improve with time and wet weather.

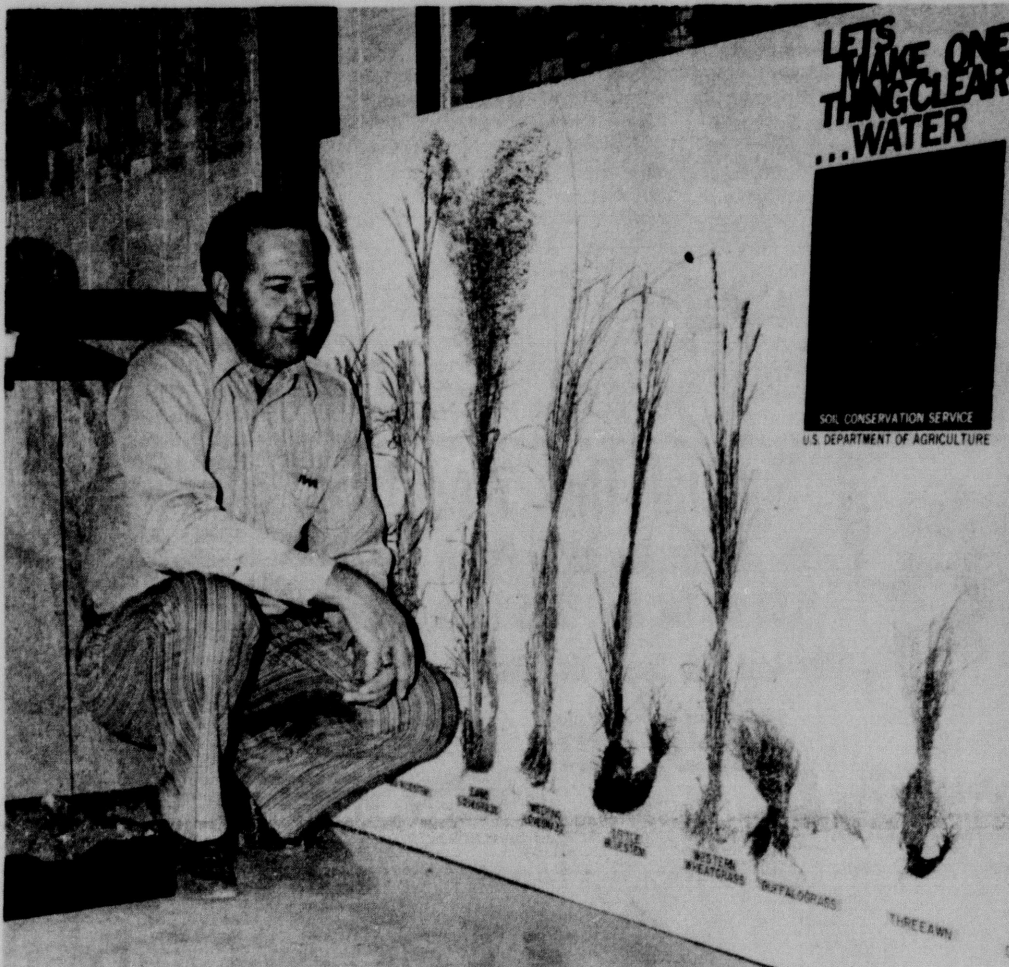

For the future, Buffalo Lake's role in Panhandle recreation has been altered.

Ferguson said new guidelines have been issued by the Bureau of Sports, Fisheries and Wildlife of the U.S. Department of the Interior for lakes—like Buffalo Lake—which fall into the wildlife refuge category.

Under the new guidelines, Buffalo Lake's aesthetic, scientific and environmental roles will be stressed rather than the pure recreational role.

As a haven for wildlife, the lake will be less the scene of roaring speed boats and paper-strewn picnickers and more the scene for those who seek a calm afternoon away from it all.

Ferguson said a seven-year plan has been outlined by the (See LAKE, Page 5)

Don Dolle, consultant with the Soil Conservation Service here, gives a final look at an exhibit he constructed this week for use in the Randall County Food and Fiber Fair which begins today and ends Saturday. The Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District is just one of many groups in the county which will have exhibits and displays at Rex Reeves Elementary School for public viewing on Saturday.

County Food, Fiber Fair Open To Public Saturday

Randall County's first Food and Fiber Fair begins today at Gene Howe Elementary School and continues Friday and Saturday at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Producers of all foods grown or raised in Randall County will be represented with exhibits at the fair for public view.

Exhibits and displays will be taken today to Gene Howe for viewing by grade schoolers.

In addition, contestants in poster competition and dried flower arrangements will also have their efforts displayed.

Children at Rex Reeves will have an opportunity to view the exhibits Friday.

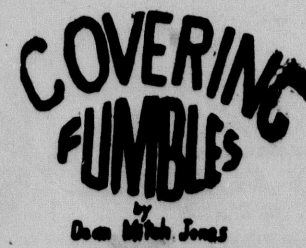

And, Saturday, the public is invited to attend the Fair at the Rex Reeves all-purpose room.

County Judge Woody Pond, chairman of the Food and Fiber Fair committee, and Canyon Mayor J. Manly Bryan proclaimed November as Food and Fiber Abundance Month last week.

Special emphasis is put on the three days beginning today.

The food and fiber fair was put together by Pond, County agents John Brazzil and Becky Hall, and representatives of grain and animal producers in the county.

Among the groups planning exhibits or displays in the celebration are the beef cattle producers, the dairy producers, the grain sorghum producers, the wheat producers, swine producers, Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District and Canyon Garden Club.

I must try to have compassion for men and women in their sadness and restless misery over the loss of that for which they were not even grateful until they had lost it.

Displays will include pictures, demonstrations and actual products with taste testing allowed.

In addition, several of the organizations are sponsoring contests in conjunction with the fair.

The Garden Club, for example, is hosting a dried flower arrangement contest.

The Chamber of Commerce Women's Division is sponsoring the poster contests for the grade school students.

The wheat producers are sponsoring a bread baking contest.

The fair will be open to the public Saturday from 9 a.m. to (See FAIR, Page 5)

Miss Reynolds, Dugan Due 4-H Club Honors

Two members of the Cleta 4-H Club have been named to receive this year's Randall County Gold Star Awards for their involvement in 4-H.

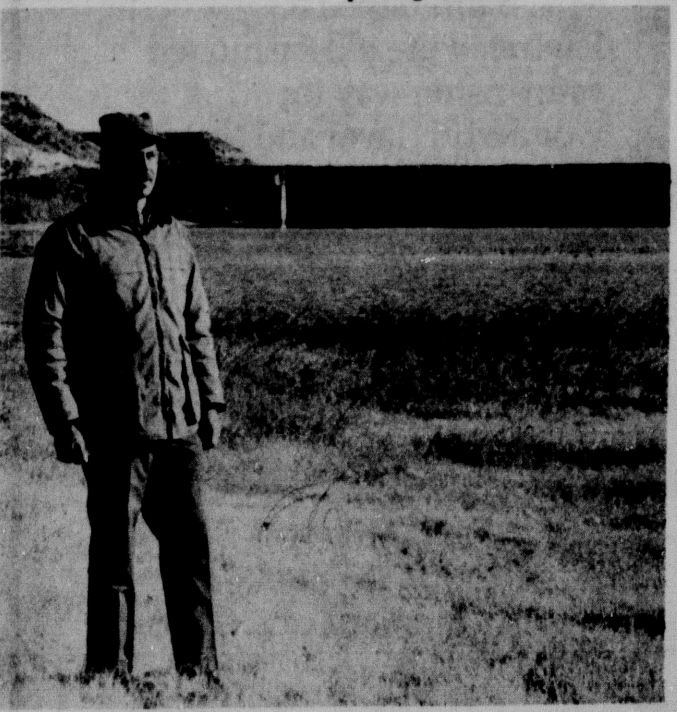

Terry Jo Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds of southeast of Canyon, and Ricky Dugan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dugan of east of Canyon, will receive the coveted awards at the annual 4-H banquet in a week and a half.

The naming of Dugan for the award marks the third consecutive year a member of his family has received the honor. Last year his brother Randy won the award and in 1970, his brother Billy was named Gold Star Boy.

A sophomore at Canyon High School, Dugan is a member of Future Farmers of America as well as 4-H.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

Mrs. George McGovern took her husband's defeat much harder than did the candidate himself. People close to the McGovern say the Senator was resigned to his political fate weeks before the balloting. I could have predicted this. Wives almost always are more concerned about their husbands than the husbands themselves. It has been my experience in the newspaper business that when I have to write something derogatory about a man, usually the wife is more angry about it. There are exceptions, but the man usually forgives — the wife, hardly ever.

The McGovern have more political storms ahead. In South Dakota, his home state, he was overwhelmed by the President November 7, and indications are he will be in deep trouble in his campaign for reelection in 1974. Mr. McGovern proved one thing — the ultra-liberal ideology is out of step with the country and with South Dakota. If the Republican's can field a candidate with any semblance of charisma, the Senator faces almost certain defeat in 1974. Like most retiring Congressmen or Senators, the George McGovern's hardly face starvation. From teaching government he sprung, and to teaching government he no doubt shall return. He probably has a better chance of getting some of his far-out ideas carried to fruition this way through the efforts of one of his students at some far-off time than he ever did putting them into practice himself.

Speaking of retired legislators, Congressman Graham Purcell rented a U-Haul trailer after the election. He presumably departed for Washington where his term expires December 31. Friends say the Purcells probably will continue in Washington. Any number of lucrative jobs are open to a retiring Congressman. People in Canyon will miss Graham and his charming wife, Nancy. The Congressman was here a great deal in the year and a half preceding the election. The vote he polled in Randall County is absolutely no indication of his personal popularity. I personally want the Purcells to know that they leave many good friends in Canyon and Randall County. Graham is a lawyer, a former district judge, and soon will be a former Congressman. The avenues open to him whether he chooses to stay in the capital or return to Wichita Falls are many.

The liquor vote, bringing the first legal booze to Randall County since enactment of the eighteenth amendment has left scars, second thoughts and recrimination. A phantom committee — that is one with no visible members — is mailing out poison pen letters. A church woman in Amarillo called this week and told me she received such a letter taking her to task for not having done more to head off legal vending of the "devil's brew" in Randall County. She said the letter accused her and her pastor of spending so much time campaigning for George McGovern and Graham Purcell that they didn't have time to properly oppose liquor by the drink. The letter was, of course, unsigned. That is the way these courageous folks operate. The woman, who didn't want to be named in the newspaper, was especially incensed because she was an ardent supporter of both President Nixon and Congressman Bob Price. She

Lake Manager Due Range Use Honor

The manager of Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge will be honored during a two-day seminar in Lubbock in early December.

Paul Ferguson will be presented a certificate of recognition for his efforts in promoting good range management on the refuge.

The award will be made during a two-day conference meeting of the Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management.

The certificate is in recognition of excellence in range management and specifically concerns the management program instituted at the lake refuge.

Ferguson said he worked with experts from the federal Bureau of Sports, Fisheries and Wildlife and with consultants from the county Soil Conservation Service developing a range management plan about a year ago.

"We developed a plan based on the utilization of forage on the refuge so we still maintain wildlife habitat," he said.

Ferguson said the plan mainly concerns a winter grazing program for cattle, a program which allows grazing but only to an extent which doesn't deplete the grasslands.

The range management system finally worked out, he said, allows for cattle grazing on refuge property in amounts about equal to grazing buffalo used to do in this part of the country.

Ferguson said seven pastures around Buffalo Lake are leased for grazing purposes to five local ranchers.

The grazing plan allows for grazing while the natural native species of grasses are not depleted, he said.

The study which preceded the plan considered the types of soil in each pasture and the types of grasses included in each pasture.

Each fall, Ferguson said, samples of grasses in the pastures are taken, weighed and the determination is then made on how many head of cattle can graze the pastures without depleting the grasslands.

The plan calls for grazing of about 15 head of cattle per acre of grass.

And, the plan even included placement of fences around the pastures.

With the advent of the fences, the cattle are kept from the shores of Buffalo Lake. Wells were dug to provide water for the cattle in the various pastures.

Stray Dog Menace Eyed By Commissioners Court

Stray dogs banding together and chasing cattle in the northern part of the county were about the only topic of discussion during a short session Monday of the Randall County commissioners.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher said he had been contacted by three landowners who complained of the stray dog menace.

"I don't know whether the county should look to some cooperative effort with the city of Amarillo to fix this," he said. "I don't know whether the court can do anything or not."

County Judge Woody Pond said he had talked with Sheriff's Deputy Cecil Johnson, the county's representative on the joint Potter and Randall animal control board, about the stray dog situation and that the board is studying preventive measures.

Paul Ferguson, refuge manager of Buffalo Lake, presented the court a check for $4210.49.

The government check is presented the county annually and is a kind of rebate on property taxes on the 7663 acres of land located within the refuge's boundaries.

The commissioners passed a motion that the money be split between the county and the Canyon Independent School District. It was generally believed that in past years, the money has been divided equally between the two taxing entities.

Ferguson told the court the refuge will probably be opened to fishermen in April 1973.

He said the lake covers an area of about 460 acre feet currently and is about eight feet deep at some places.

Of the fish situation, which for several years has been grim, Ferguson said testing has produced no carp or other rough fish in the lake.

The lake has been restocked at intervals with game fish.

just east of West Texas State University Friday night may become the object of a reward, city manager George Louder told The News this week.

According to Louder, a high powered rifle was believed to have been used to cause the damage which was discovered when a passing motorist noticed water spraying down onto his car.

"I will place a request on the agenda (for Monday night's city commission meeting) asking the commission to offer a reward for arrest and conviction," Louder said.

The city manager said the most recent incident was the second such vandalism of the water tower within the past year.

"It's a dangerous thing," Louder continued, saying that such damage creates a loss of water pressure and lowers the city's firefighting capabilities.

Repair costs for patching the hole will be from $400 to $500 and will require out-of-town crews with steeplejack equipment, the city manager said.

Another factor in the damage is the requirement that the one-half million gallon tank be drained down past the level of the hole, causing a costly waste of water.

Louder said it was possible that the person, or persons responsible did not realize the dangers and costs involved. "The only way to stop it is by prosecution and I think a reward might solve it," he added.

Eagles Dreary Season Ends, Next One Eyed

It was a dreary season for Canyon High School's grid team. For the last 10 weeks, you could ask Coach Ron Mills how things were going and he'd reply "Not so good."

For the Eagles this season, that's an apt description.

The Canyon team wrapped up season play Friday night in a loss to Muleshoe. On the record books, the season will be racked up as a loser since the Eagles own a 1-9 record.

But, the record books won't tell the whole story. The record books for example, won't tell about the five AAAA high school teams the Eagles played early in the season.

The books won't tell about the various injuries which kept anticipated starters on the bench game after game.

In looking back over the season, Mills, who until this year had never experienced a losing season as a coach, said the tough early competition damaged the mental attitude of the team irreparably.

"I don't think we were ever really embarrassed," Mills said in retrospect. "But, we should have won the first and last games."

The Eagles, who went into the season as defending district champions, lost their initial outing to a AA team, Spearman, and their last game to Muleshoe in a district match.

"This year we had a chance to win four or five playing at our very best," Mills said. "I think we were beat down mentally and physically."

Mills noted that after meeting the five AAAA teams at the first of the season, the team suffered physically in the final district outings.

"We didn't have the same starting backfield or linebackers in any district game," he said.

Nevertheless, Mills remains proud of his team and his coaching staff.

"We were hurting for speed and experience," he said.

Of his coaching staff, Mills said he anticipates no changes, but that he will adjust assignments next fall.

And, next fall is the focus of his attention right now.

"Next year, we're not going to let the people worry us," he said. "We're going to approach the games with a different attitude. We're going to say 'Okay, we're in the big leagues and we're big boys and just ask the kids to do the best they can.'"

Musical Group To Give Concert

"Vicki and the Royal Heirs," a seven-member musical group from Houston, will present a concert of gospel songs at Faith Chapel, 2700 4th Ave., on Saturday night, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Vicki Patterson, featured soloist in the group, is a former West Texas State University student and performer in the "Texas" production. She was originally from Pampa. Bill Patterson, her husband, is also a former WTSU student and director of the Faith Chapel choir during his college days. He sings in the back-up quartet.

Another couple in the group, Royce and Roberta Grant, will also be remembered by many Canyonites. They are former residents, Mr. Grant having operated an interior decorating business here. Roberta plays piano for the group and Royce is a member of the quartet.

The two other members of the quartet are Gene Allen of Houston and Dennis Richardson of Joplin, Mo. Eddie Martin, originally from Spearman, is the organist.

The public is invited to attend the concert at no admission charge, but a free will offering will be taken, according to the Rev. Jack Cornell.

Sunday morning services at 11 a.m. at Faith Chapel will be carried out entirely by members of the Houston musical group. Following the services, they will continue to their next tour engagement in Lubbock.

"Vicki and the Royal Heirs," to appear in concert at Faith Chapel next Saturday night, include four former residents in their musical group. (see story). They are, seated,

Vicki Patterson and Roberta Grant; and, standing, Dennis Richardson, Eddie Martin, Gene Allen, Bill Patterson, and Royce Grant.

Hunters Should Keep Safety In Mind

The "in" color for the hunting season is hunter's fluorescent orange, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

A matching orange cap and vest is more than just fashionable. It will help hunters prevent what is considered a sartorial faux pas in the hunting game — bullet holes.

Parks and Wildlife Department officials point out that fluorescent orange is probably one of the most unnatural colors one could bring into a forest and that's a big plus in its favor.

There is no mistaking an orange vest coming through the woods for anything but man, so there is less chance of getting shot by someone who is a little too anxious to bring home a trophy.

Here are a few more safety tips from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department which should help hunters enjoy open seasons for years to come.

— Make sure of your target. Never shoot at something you can't see. Know where your bullet is going if you miss.

— Carry only unloaded firearms in a vehicle. Keep the actions open and the firearms in a carrying case.

— Take a little time when cross-sing fences. Lay your firearm flat on the ground on the other side of the fence and then crawl through.

— A firearm should never be used as a club. Wounded game should be finished off with another bullet or with a handy stick or rock.

— Use the right ammunition for your firearm. Using the wrong size shell is inviting disaster.

Phebean Class Holds Dinner

Phebean Bible Study Class of First Baptist Church held their Thanksgiving luncheon on Thursday, Nov. 9, in the home of Mrs. Helen Reynolds, with Mrs. Earl Burtz and Reeta Tucker as co-hostesses.

Yellow mums decorated Mrs. Reynolds' home. The table, laid with handmade, white linen tablecloth, was centered with an arrangement of candles and green grapes. Gold flatware was used.

In a short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Reynolds, new year books were handed out. Mrs. Tom Gooch gave the prayer, and Mrs. T.B. Cox gave a devotional on "Thankfulness."

Attending the luncheon were Mmes. Ed Weeks, Tom Gooch, W. R. Crow, H. M. Stokes, T. B. Cox, Paul Summers, Earl Davis, George D. Moore, Elmer Marshall, B. E. Rickett, Laura Hartman, Lee Allen, Leonard Winters, Miss Ona Mae McMurray, and the hostesses. Special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Poil.

The annual Christmas party was set for 7:30 p.m., Dec. 14, in the home of Mrs. W. R. Crow. Mrs. Earl Davis and Mrs. T. B. Cox will be co-hostesses.

"Roof Leaking"?

Stop all leaks. Preserve and extend the life of any roof that is old. Save the cost of replacing the roof. T.M. White and M.A. Black have been developed especially for flat roofs of tar and paper, composition and cedar shingles. Heavy bodied T.M. White is applied in two coats by brush or spray. Cost $6.00 per gallon. Covers 100 sq. ft. per gallon with two coats. Easily brushed. Best job is to prime any roof with M.A. Black. Not a tar. Penetrates old felt or shingles to be very water repellent. M.A. Black costs only $3.50 per gallon; less in 5's. Covers 100 ft. per gallon. Anyone can apply. The white roof is attractive and reflects heat in summer months to reduce air conditioning costs. Call or come and see these and other Lifetime Coatings for metal buildings. Our 22nd year.

Cowboys...

hard "to get the team up" for the battle that will have no bearing on the district race. "They have some big kids," Criswell added, "four or five 200 pounders."

The Cowboys climaxed the season last Friday night at home by blasting a contending Sundown team 63-0. In picking up 596 total yards, the Cowboys for the fourth time this year amassed more than 500 total yards.

After dropping the season opener to Class-A Claude by a 30-19 score, the Cowboys have unleashed their awesome power and speed on eight conference members, scoring 363 points while allowing only 38.

On three occasions, Happy has shut out the opposition by overwhelming scores of 50-0, 64-0 and 63-0. Another shut out was by a score of 27-0.

According to Criswell, no injuries were suffered in last week's romp over Sundown.

In regard to this week's encounter at Meadow, Criswell said he expects to see the Bronchos go to the air quite a bit. "They throw a lot," the coach said.

The Bronchos will be one of the heaviest teams to be played by the Cowboys, and will offer a high scoring potential. The Meadow team posted a 60-6 victory over Amherst two weeks ago and last week downed Nazareth by a 28-0 score.

Leading the way for the Cowboys will again be halfbacks Chris Pearson and Greg Looney, spelled by the running of fullback Johnny Payne.

Quarterback Mark Hargrave, who keeps the Cowboys on the ground most of the time, has shown vast improvement in his ball handling and field generalship during the last two or three outings, said Criswell.

The fast and hard-running backs are aided and abetted by a forward wall averaging some 200 pounds.

According to coach Criswell, the site of the Happy-Groom playoff game should be known sometime this weekend, possibly Saturday. "We are trying for a neutral field," he added.

Lake...

federal government for the ultimate transformation of Buffalo Lake into a minimum recreation area.

Speedboating and water skiing will be "toned down," Ferguson said, with the eventual idea of phasing these activities out altogether.

In the initial years of the seven-year period, for example, boating and skiing and swimming will be limited to certain sections of the lake.

Next summer, Ferguson hopes the lake will be filled enough to allow fishing, swimming, boating, skiing and all other kinds of recreational activities.

But, in years to come those activities will be restricted or severely limited.

Ultimately, Ferguson sees the establishment of three nature trails covering eight miles for hikers to view the wildlife and vegetation of the refuge.

A visitor center, to be constructed at some time before the end of the seven-year period, would serve as the hub of the hiking trails.

Routes for the winter waterfowl tour would be extended.

In many areas, cars and other vehicles will be strictly prohibited so wildlife won't be disturbed.

Environmental study areas for area researchers, perhaps from universities, and for students will also be established for that use only.

The goal is to keep the refuge environment as natural as possible.

Parking will be limited to certain areas and camping will likewise be regulated.

Ferguson said the government is not trying to discourage visitors to the refuge, but is simply trying to fulfill a need for the public in this area.

He noted that boating, skiing and swimming enthusiasts have ample opportunity to ply their sports at Lake Meredith, just a short driving distance from anywhere in the Panhandle.

But, he said, there are few areas in the Panhandle which provide the type activities which the redirected Buffalo Lake will provide.

"We're not trying to shut off the valve just like that," he said, motioning with his hand. "We will continue to encourage people to use it."

He stressed the change in roles will be gradual.

One change already instituted involves money.

Recent guidelines say the refuge can no longer charge a fee for entrance to Buffalo Lake. So, next summer's fishermen, boaters and skiers will be able to enjoy a free recreation area.

Outside her 4-H activities, Miss Reynolds is current Randall County Sheriff's Posse Queen.

In her record book, Miss Reynolds lists as her most valuable benefit from 4-H, experience in leadership.

In looking to the future, Miss Reynolds said she is undecided on whether to attend college. "But, if I do go to college, I want to become a doctor," she said.

She said she'd also like to go into politics.

Through both, she sees avenues to help people.

While he's just a sophomore, Dugan says he's not looking to college, either at this time. He says he'd like to be an auto mechanic.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said early this week he expected 11 more applications to be filed, but later that number was reduced to 9.

Apparently, though, those applications, which are expected from a chain convenience store management, were caught in a quagmire on zoning with the City of Amarillo.

County officials expressed last week the opinions that they don't expect to see a bar on every corner in the new wet area.

County Judge Pond vowed to make a thorough investigation of each applicant.

He also noted that various state laws prohibit the selling of alcoholic beverages in certain areas of the county.

Buffalo coaches this week is the ground offense, which had been so effective for much of this season. The Mavericks held the Buffaloes to 160 net yards on 49 carries Saturday and West Texas had been averaging 270 yards rushing per game for the first eight games.

Freshman Clois Burgess, who replaced Pritchett at the fullback post in the Buffaloes' Wishbone offense, led his team with 55 yards against Arlington. Rick Schleider, another freshman, rushed for 44 yards, playing in place of Lisle.

Cole Fraley, the Buffs' leading ball carrier for the season, was held to his season low—26 net yards on 14 carries. The 200-pound sophomore has 137 carries for the season for 707 net yards.

Pritchett is second among the Buffalo runners with 436 yards and Lisle has gained 405. Burgess is next with 243, followed by Schleider, who has one less yard.

Mike Wartes has completed 20 of 70 passes for 411 yards to pace the Buffalo air game. Split end Carl Brown leads in receptions with 12 for 267. Tight end Merced Solis is second with 11 for 161 yards.

North Texas State, which carries a 1-8 season record into the contest, is looking for its first MVC victory, against five losses.

The Eagles' ground game is led by junior halfback Charles Johnson, who has 655 net yards. Quarterback Rick Shaw has completed 47 of 177 passes for 734 yards. Split end David Kervin is the leading receiver with 28 catches for 472 yards, followed by flanker David Yaege, with 26 for 494 yards.

During past years, hunter success has been almost 100 per cent on the Lighthouse property, with 28 animals being taken on the 31 permits issued during the period.

Overall, the average is not that good, with less than 50 per cent success being expected.

This year in Randall County, 24 permits for the aoudad were issued. For the four-county area open to hunting, 153 permits were available.

The petition is to be presented to the city commission when circulation ends.

"We feel like there's some way this can be worked out to the benefit of everybody without putting somebody out," he said.

Talking with the News last week, Ezzell said the possibility that parking might be removed from 23rd street to facilitate the installation of turn signals has been discussed by the Jaycees before they decided to circulate the petitions.

"We decided the people should just have to get along without the parking if that's what it takes to have safety," he said.

Police records indicate the highest accident rate in the city is at the 23rd and 4th intersection.

Ten accidents have occurred this year at the intersection and 21 have occurred there since last September.

In addition, other high accident areas are located at the intersection with 23rd Street at 5th Avenue and 10th Avenue.

Ezzell told The News the accidents caused an estimated $12,000 to $13,000 in damages at the 23rd and 4th Avenue intersection alone during the period beginning in September 1971.

Magazine Sales Net Junior Class $3,000

The junior class of Canyon High School this week ended a two-week long magazine sales campaign which netted more than $3,000 to be used for class projects.

According to Mrs. Charlotte Brantley, some 140 students from the 230 member class took part in the sales program. A total of $8,100 worth of magazine subscriptions were sold, with the class getting 40 per cent of that amount.

Several members of the class won prizes as a result of a sales contest. Walter Henson took first place and won a new 10-speed bicycle by selling $711 worth of subscriptions. Finishing close behind and winning a stereo tape player was Dan McGlasson, who sold subscriptions totalling $663.

According to Mrs. Brantley, about 20 students won "Class of '74" T-shirts by selling ten or more subscriptions by the first reporting day. On the second reporting day, Oct. 30, three students won blacklights for their sales efforts. They were Dan McGlasson, Craig Green and Steve McDaniel. By that

Rex Reeves Class Has Unique Display

The 5th grade class of Mrs. R. D. Wheelock at Rex Reeves Elementary School in Canyon has a unique arrangement for keeping an up-to-date seasonal display, thanks to help from a classroom mother.

At this time of year, the mural-like, blackboard size bulletin board depicts the Thanksgiving season and was done by Mrs. Gary Fletcher, mother of student Gary Fletcher.

The background drawing of a fall scene was done by Mrs. Fletcher and the children have added works done by themselves in class.

Additions to the board by students include Pilgrims, turkeys, pumpkins, houses and teepees complete with Indians.

One of the more important aspects of the display, says Mrs. Wheelock, is that although provided with the professional-type background, students are required to keep their own works in the proper perspective and proportionate in size. The teacher said the current display

Three Anniversaries Celebrated

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

A VERY PLEASANT week to you this thirteenth week of school. Those report cards have been brought home for the second time this year and we have been so very proud of all your students efforts. We're happy with our school system and the values our students are learning.

TO VICKI HOOKER of the Palisades Palaver, we've really enjoyed reading your column and will miss you much. We know too that the Psychiatric Pavilion will be blessed having you as an occupational therapist. Good luck to you, Vicki. Also a big welcome to Mildred Turner.

Looking forward to meeting her.

RECENT GUESTS IN the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Leith and children were Wanda's parents Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Luedecke of Pampa and an aunt, Mrs. Claude Baldwin.

VISITING THIS WEEK in the home of her son and family Sherman and Oleta Jones is Mrs. Eunice Jones of Littlefield. Sherman, Oleta and Lee Don went to Littlefield Friday night and brought her back with them Saturday.

MRS. DON TANKERSLEY of Antoine Street, who teaches children with learning disabilities in the Amarillo Public Schools, is in San Antonio this week to attend the state TACLD meeting. We know she is receiving much to help her in her field of work.

YESTERDAY WAS THE birthday of Brenda Glenn and Robby Boss. Hope you both had a very happy day. Happy birthday tomorrow to William Janelle and Saturday to John Gaston Jr. Then on Tuesday Brenda Baker celebrates her day. A most happy birthday to each of you.

I JUST GOTTA announce the birth of our first great nephew on my side of the house. He is little James Pete Tiffie, and was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Tiffie of Amarillo on Nov. 7. He weighed in at four pounds, eight ounces. At present he is residing in intensive care at Northwest Texas hospital, but hopes and plans are to get him home real soon.

THREE COUPLES OUT here are celebrating wedding anniversaries this week. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stricker of Antoine Street were married on November 15, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen on November 18, and Mr. and Mrs. James Baker on November 17. The Allens live on McCormick Road and the Bakers live on Rosemary Street. A very happy anniversary wish to each of you.

MR. AND MRS. Alvin Settle have moved from their home on Bordeaux Street to Lubbock where Mr. Settle is now working. We'll surely miss them from our neighborhood but wish them success in their new surroundings.

GUESTS IN OUR home over the weekend were Billy's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Griffin and their children Carol, Fonda and Allen from Olton. Molly and I went to an Oster cooking demonstration in Western Plaza Saturday while Billy, Eugene and the children attended the Veterans Day Parade and the 1973 automobile show in the Civic Center. Took the kids skating Saturday night and they had a ball celebrating Fonda's birthday. We all went to church Sunday morning and ate lunch out. Surely did enjoy the visit.

SEE THAT CONSTRUCTION is getting started on the new house for the Jack Nance family. They have done a lot of planning and must be really anxious now that the building has begun.

BROWNIE TROOP 181 under the leadership of Karen Sheffy, Judy Hill, Nelda Newman and Jo Ell Newman have been working on tray favors for the hospital and rest home in Canyon. Also they have collected current magazines to place there. At regular meeting time Tuesday they visited LaCasa home and delivered the things they have made. The girls in this troop are Tammy Bonner, Suzanne Bromlow, Melissa Carruth, Leslie Gordon, Donna Grimes, Kemi Hill, Holly Hooper, Sondra Lacy, Debbie Mankins, Niki Newman, Quinell Newman, Stephanie Raymond, Meg Reeves, Michelle Rider, Ellen Scarbrough and Kristi Sheffy. Their theme for the year is "helping others; and they are really carrying it out well.

THANKS FOR THE news calls this week. We can use all your news happenings, so do give me a call at 351-2951.

Continuing Education Program At WTSU To Aid Area

When its new continuing education division begins operation, hopefully just after the first of the year, West Texas State University will truly serve the Tri-State area.

That's the hope of Dr. Emmitt Smith, who was named last month by university regents as director of the new division.

Continuing education, in Dr. Smith's words, is education sought not for a degree, but for a continued upgrading of skills and knowledge. It isn't correspondence courses.

Dr. Smith envisions a program which would offer courses from the university in towns in the Tri-State region.

"It shouldn't be confused with degree-seeking education," he said. "It's not aimed at any degree. Typically, it comes as a result of the needs people feel after they enter the work world."

Dr. Smith said continuing education is a renewal effort "where as new information and ideas emerge from research and development, people can keep up to date in whatever field they want to continue to study."

In the field of agriculture, for example, new information is constantly resulting from research, information of value to farmers and ranchers of the region.

The continuing education program would provide for people who want to continue in an educational field purely for interest sake or for personal development.

Mechanically, the program

Ray Custer was named president of the Canyon chapter of the Texas Public Employees Association Friday night.

Custer is an employee of the West Texas State University maintenance department.

Larry McLendon, a patrolman with the Texas Department of Public Safety, was named vice president.

Polly Lindley will serve as secretary-treasurer. She is also an employee of WTSU maintenance department.

Custer said the newly formed chapter has 75 members, all but one of whom are employees at WTSU.

The chapter was formed last month after discontent with salaries and benefits were revealed by several maintenance department employees and made public through The Canyon News.

Directors named for the chapter Friday night were Ray Bible, Wayne Trout, Dwayne Newton and Ruth Birkhead.

In addition, a constitution and by-laws were adopted.

will probably include many Canyon campus-based courses, but Smith visualizes the establishment of extension courses in regional cities.

He also foresees WTSU collaboration with the two-year institutions in the Panhandle.

"We hope to develop this continuing education effort with the full knowledge and cooperation of the two-year institutions in the region," Dr. Smith said, "with emphasis on Amarillo College because in no way do we intend to develop a competitive operation."

Extension courses or courses taught in the continuing education program on the local campus will be instructed by faculty members of the university.

In some cases, residence credit could be given for the courses, particularly for courses in conjunction with area two-year colleges.

"For instance, right now, we have two courses going at A.C.," Smith said. "Dr. John Roberts is teaching two courses there primarily to the faculty at A.C. These courses are offered for residence credit."

Dr. Smith said the recent establishment of a continuing education division at WTSU is "a basic response to a need."

Even so, the needs of the people in this area have not really been assessed in terms of what they would like to see offered.

The initial step, then, in establishing continuing education programs is assessing those needs and fabricating a program to meet those needs.

"We will not create a program just hoping people will take it," he said. "It will be in response to a need."

Currently, there is no projected timetable on development of the new division, but Dr. Smith predicts the division will be fully functional in two years.

Turkey Shoot Is Saturday

Lambda Mu, honor society for math students at West Texas State University, will sponsor a Turkey Shoot Saturday at the ROTC Rifle Range on the north part of the campus.

Three turkeys will be given to winners of first, second and third prize.

Participants will fire five shots for 75 cents and the best shot wins.

The shoot starts at 10 a.m. and ends at 4 p.m.

The society will furnish .22 caliber rifles for the shooters. Minimum age for participants will be 15 years of age.

Proceeds from the shoot will be used by the society for a spring trip.

A large group photograph of the 1954-55 basketball team. The team is posed in four rows on a gymnasium floor. The front row consists of 12 players sitting on the floor. The second row has 12 players standing. The third row has 12 players standing. The back row has 12 players standing. All players are wearing white jerseys with "CHS" and their numbers on the front. The coaches are standing in the back row, flanking the players. The photograph is in black and white and is mounted on a dark background.

Mescalero Park News Tows Place in Post Motorcycle Enduro

By TOOTIE BYBEE
HELLO AGAIN. I suppose this cold, cold weather has kept everyone in and close to the ole fire place, huh!!
WELL, BET NONE of you missed that big chili supper at Gene Howe the other evening, did ya.
Doesn't seem as if anyone was absent. From all reports it was really a big success. Good chili and a good time was had by all.

SINCE BOTH of my girls have been sick and home I have been unable to get out and see what all is going on. So if this is short that's why.

THE LADIES THURSDAY Club met on a windy, blustery day Thursday at Joyce Minor's home. We were few in numbers due to the bad weather, but high in spirits. Joyce will most definitely start the first chapter of the "Late Great Planet Earth" this week no matter who is or is not present, due to the fact we will be on this, this time next year otherwise. So, please be present, bring book and Bible and head for thinking, O.K.? We will meet this week at Mike Whiteheads and I'll see you there.

A VERY SPECIAL thanks to Sue Brooks for the "cheer-up" she brought to our house along with sweet Barbara the other day. A special thanks to Katy Bell my darling for the addition to my tea pot collection and the lovely flowers.
THE TOWS MADE a trip to

Post Saturday evening and spent the night and entered the Post Motorcycle Enduro. Mike won third place in the 250 B class with Dale taking a second in the 100 A class. Daddy I.J. would have won, but they don't give trophies for fiftieth, oops, I mean fifth place. HA, HA. Anyway the I.J. Tows and the Bob Tows had a very good time.

TRACY GILLIS is playing on the Gene Howe mixed third and fourth grade team. They played Highland Park Saturday and won 22-8. Yea team.

NOW I WANT to tell you that the 6th grade team coached by Marilyn Baker may not be winners in numbers, but they are in fun and friendship. Of course, you must realize that none of the girls have played before—well, maybe a few have. But a lot of the teams have the good advantage of playing several years and also, having the distinct advantage of always playing together on the same team. So, anyway good luck to these girls and we are all behind you win or lose!!

WELL, HOWARD'S BUSY with work, Shirley's busy with Tole painting, Greg's busy with college. Christie is busy with church and school, and Doug's busy with the new piano lessons and Bert is busy just being Bert!!
JUST HAD A call from Mr. O'Neal Call and those 4th graders really laid it on St. Mary's 15 to 2. You girls are just great and you have a wonderful coach. So, go get 'em.

LENISE CAN'T WAIT to get back with you all.
HEY, WE'LL SEE ya all again next week with a little more news I hope. Call 622-1471.

They said she couldn't do it and she proved them wrong. Rosetta Baer underwent major surgery not long ago and sports her big smile because she proved her friends wrong Saturday and rode her bicycle the 10 or so miles to Palo Duro Canyon and back to Canyon in spite of the weather. Miss Baer, a student at West Texas State University, said her feat proves bicycle riding is a great sport "for whatever illness you may have had."

Umbarger News Society Plans Flower Show

By REBA RAEF

GREETINGS, AGAIN, FROM this grateful little community—grateful to God, for weather nice enough to feed 3250 people last Sunday. These were paid tickets. How many little ones under the age of six years, is anybody's guess. All in all, it was a very gratifying day, for all concerned. Among former Umbarger residents, who were here were, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Friemel, from Aransas Pass, Tex., Tom Raef, from Clovis, the Jim Wiecks and Marvin Batenhorst families, from Hartley, Stanley Wieck, from Dalhart, and probably a good many more, that we did not see. We were glad to have them all, as well as the "regulars," who come each year to eat sausage with us, also the "first timers," too. The winners in the raffle were: First, $175.00 cash, Clarence Beckman; Second, 1/4 beef, Jim Grabber; third, 1/4 beef, L.J. Wieck; fourth, 2 tires, Joe Meyer, Adrian; fifth, 25 lbs. sausage, Bill Alexander, Amarillo; sixth, 10 lbs. sausage, Richard E. Friemel; seventh, 2 cases oil, Gene Grabber; eighth, electric yard light, Willie McAlpine, Canyon; ninth, grill, Lorene Gidden, Canyon; tenth, electric knife, Max P. Hoffman, Amarillo; eleventh, 4 tires, Ed Wieck; twelfth, 1 tire, Mrs. Jack Brandt; thirteenth, 2 table lamps, Leroy Lamb.

ACCORDING TO JACK Barrow, racing secretary for Panhandle Downs, there are now 15 horses stabled at the Downs. They are being galloped every day, by the two trainers. Looks very favorable for the Downs. More horses are expected in the near future.

Guests for the ceremony were Darroll's aunts, Mrs. Howard Holcomb and Mrs. Edith Cole, from Amarillo. Other guests of the Adams families are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Adams, from Stratford, Okla., parents of the Adams boys.

MISS JACKIE FARMER, from Las Cruces, New Mex., visited her grandparents, the Henry Brachts, and her aunt and uncle, the Jack Brandts, Sunday.

ST. MARYS' ALTAR Society is planning a flower show, for Sunday, Nov. 26, in the parish hall, from 2 to 4 p.m. There will be 3 divisions, adult, 12 through high school and under 12. The purpose of the show is to make an arrangement from natural materials, such as bean pods, seed pods, from trees, dried fruits, gourds, berries of all kinds, grain heads, cattails, etc. Those arrangements that are suitable, will be eligible to be used on the altar, for decorations. Mesdames Dennis Brandt and Mrs. Jack Brandt are in charge of the show. Everyone is invited to enter an arrangement in the show. Ribbons will be awarded for the best entries. Qualified judges will do the judging. It was also decided to give a baby layette to Catholic Charities, for Christmas. Plans to have a Christmas party for the older women of the community were left up to the program chairman and the hostesses for the December meeting. Mesdames Jack Brandt, Don Dolle and Alois Friemel.

Freshman Footballers Close Season Against WSU Shockers

West Texas State University's freshman football team closes its season with a 1:30 p.m. Saturday game at Wichita State against the Shocker freshmen.

The young Buffaloes of coach Ronnie Mankin have won four of their five games this season, while the Wichita State freshmen have lost all four of their games. The Shocker freshmen have, however, been boosted by several sophomores who are dropping back to play on the first year team.

Mankin has guided his team to wins over Cisco Junior College, 17-7; North Texas State's freshmen, 65-14; New Mexico Military Institute, 21-16; and last week over the Eastern Arizona eleven, 52-7. The lone loss was a 20-13 decision against Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

Wichita State has been beaten by Nebraska, 47-13; Kansas State, 21-6; Tulsa, 46-14; and Houston, 71-0.

The leading ball carrier on the freshman team from Wichita is 190-pound Fred Speck. The former Johnson, Kan., athlete returned a kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown in the opening varsity game of the year against Texas A&M.

Joe Horton from Parsons, Kan., quarterbacks the Shocker freshmen. He has connected on 36 of 69 passes for 452 yards and two touchdowns. The top receivers are freshman Jim Yeres and sophomore Gerrald Taylor.

Mankin's young Buffaloes will play the final game without several starters. Quarterback Mike Adams and Pat Merritt will not play because of injuries. Adams has a broken hand and Merritt injured his knee against Eastern Arizona Friday night.

Mike Lozano, who quarterbacked that game for much of three quarters, has an injured knee. Offensive and defensive tackle John Jacobini injured a shoulder against Eastern Arizona and might not play.

Others with more minor, but painful injuries, are tight end Jeff Loyd (ankle), fullback Johnny Darden (ankle), linebacker Ben Colbert (bruised thigh) and Mike Kiselwick (ankle).

With Merritt and Adams out, the quarterbacking will be up to Lozano and Canyon's Chuck Wright.

County Judge Woody Pond, right, and Canyon Mayor Manly Bryan sign a proclamation in unison naming November as Food and Fiber Abundance Month in Randall County. A food and Fiber Fair begins today and ends late Saturday in the county. The fair is open to the public Saturday.

Kids Inc., Now Ready For Basketball

Registration for Kids Inc., basketball, both boys and girls, begins this afternoon at the old Church of God building at 14th St. and 5th Ave.

According to league officials, registration for 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th graders interested in taking part in the program will be from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. weekdays, and all day Saturday.

Some 150 youngsters are expected to play this year, with the number of teams fielded depending upon how many players are available.

Each team will have nine or ten members, said roundup chairman Max Brummett. The league will furnish jerseys and each player is expected to furnish his or her own shorts and shoes.

Brummett said practice would begin as soon as the teams and coaches were selected. Regular games will begin about January 1, he added.

The new league office being opened at the church building will be on a part-time basis, Brummett said.

Play Day Set For Children On Saturday

Delta Psi Kappa, honorary sorority for women students in physical education at West Texas State University, will sponsor a play day for local children who are in the first through the eighth grades of school.

This will be the third year for the play day, which is really an afternoon of sports and games. More than 300 children participated in the activities last year.

This year's play day will be from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday in the WTSU activities center. Admission will be $1.

The 32 women students in the sorority will lead the children in basketball, trampoline, swimming and games.

Proceeds from the play day will be used by the sorority for extra-curricular sports expenses, expenses incurred when women teams from WTSU compete with teams from other universities.

Palisades Palaver

Mrs. Carlile Hosts HD Luncheon Today

By MILDRED TURNER

WHAT HAPPENED TO our lovely Canyon this year? It seems the leaves had hardly turned until they were gone. It could be the recent ice caused them to fall more quickly. I looked out at the leaves falling like rain and felt a little sad, until I began to realize that was God's way of making way for the shining new leaves next spring.

ALTHOUGH WE DID have a little damage to the limbs, the ice was beautiful on the trees, like a crystal fairy land. I took a picture of icicle-fringed "Happy Hollow" as the sun came up. We laughed at "Junior," our squirrel, as he wrapped his tail around his neck like a scarf, posing for a picture as he ate breakfast.

SPEAKING OF BEAUTY, the varied trees of the Ozarks outdid themselves this year. Their gold, yellow, orange, amber, brown, red, pink mingled with greens left me dazzled. Judy and I went to Arkansas to help Belva move back after seeking her fortune the last six months. She worked there Friday and here Monday so we did not tarry long. She is back at Amarillo National. On Monday night a friend from Rogers, Ark. called and told her the bank was robbed of $30,000 Monday morning! He hastened to tell her she was not a suspect and the pair was caught before they had gone two blocks!

WHILE IN ARKANSAS, we visited my sister, her husband, and daughter, the I. B. Dodsons and Sonja Jayne. Remember when I. B. worked at Taylor & Sons when the store was north of Canyon? They now live out of Springdale on Beaver Lake and White River, a sort of resort area. They are happily redoing this big, old two story house. Their first night their neighbors thought they were noisy and odd to have a house warming at 2 a.m. They did have a house warming, the house was on fire! Faulty wiring in the basement caused a fire downstairs and a lot of excitement upstairs. They are now delighted with the friendly neighborhood and the lovely setting where they live. I. B. likes to sneak out to the lake and fish or work in his hobby garden.

THE PALISADES HOME Demonstration Club met with Estelle (McCarter) Atkinson last Thursday. Vicki had told you about the "wipe out" plaques which Beverly Norman had prepared. The girls painted their pictures on the plaques, wiped them off and had a wonderful time. From all reports, they were very artistic and pretty. (I did not get to attend). Some were of scenes, flowers or animals. Loraine said her deer looked kinda pregnant. Our club appreciates Beverly's help and patience with us. We are very fortunate to have her in our club. About a dozen ladies were present for this meeting.

TODAY, MARGIE CARLILE, who lives around the bend, up Inman hill, on Carlile corner, is having the Home Demonstration Club. It will be at 11:30; a covered dish luncheon. Becky Hall will present the program "Buying Sense." In this day of high prices this should be real good. There is always a lot of fun and excitement at these club meetings so don't miss it. By the way, the Christmas Tea is December 11 at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Canyon. I will find out if there will be a nursery.

Canyon Capers Elect Officers

Canyon Capers Square Dance Club recently elected a slate of new officers, headed by Lewis and Margaret Tucek in the office of president. Other couples voted to share office are Paul and Dee Renken, vice-president; Leroy and Laura Pitt, secretary and treasurer; Bob and Virginia Costley, social chairmen; Frank and Helen Ham, P. S. D. A. representative.

Mrs. Laura Pitt was also voted the new Club Sweetheart.

The club dances every Monday night at 8:30 p.m. in the Activities Center at West Texas State University to the calling of Knox Day.

REMEMBER THE PASISADES Board meeting Tuesday night at 7:30.

DID YOU EVER go on a trip without all the muss of packing and preparing? Lena and Lum had retired guests, Seth and Dee Moore, of Anchorage, Alaska, this weekend. They had spent the last four months traveling. They plan to winter in Florida. After touring from coast to coast they will decide where they will retire to live. They have taken a lot of interesting pictures and showed slides at the Edwards'. According to Lena it was almost like taking a trip with them.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, NELLI! In winding up their football season, Greg Moore's team had a picnic, also presented their coach a football jersey with his name on it.

THE CANYON JUNIOR High girls played Fritch recently and won. The Boothe girls, Sharee and Susie, Rhonda Webb and others did great.

WOULD THE MOTORCYCLE racers report on their activities? 622-0701.

MR. AND MRS. Harry Inman, Jack's brother from Garland were weekenders at the Innans. I called Loraine for the news and she replied, "Jack mowed the grass!"

I HEARD JOE Lovan was going deer hunting. That's all.

BILT RITE FARMS sold around ninety barrows at their sale last Monday evening.

THE HAPPY BOOSTER Club ran a concession stand at the hog sale to raise funds for their projects.

CHARLES EVANSIS in the Osteopathic Hospital in Amarillo.

LOUIE BONDS had major surgery at Northwest Texas Hospital this week.

HAPPY COWBOYS PUT me through a nervous week for nothing. Whoever thought the final score would be Happy 63 and Sundown 0. Sundown had a sign as long as their bleachers that said, "We've come too far to quit now." And I admired their spirit, but I'm sure glad we had more of it, and more of whatever else. Chris Pearson made four touchdowns which probably didn't hurt his scoring any. Johnny Payne made one touchdown. Offield (Teddy) made two touchdowns. Looney, one, and Hargrave one touchdown and kicked seven extra points. They ran the first conversion for the extra two instead of one, I suppose. It was a pass from Mark to Teddy. An absolutely beautiful game. We didn't even score the fourth quarter. Cowboys, we are proud of you!

WHEN MARK HARGRAVE made that last touchdown, he jumped three feet in the air as tickled as if it had been the winning touchdown. Couldn't help but be amused.

THE KIDS ALL went to the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall for their eats and entertainment after the game. (That was after they put Coach Criswell in the shower. The Cowboys thought that the highlight of the evening.) "Seven Days a Week" played and sang for the group. A good crowd attended. More than just Baptists furnished the sandwiches, I understand.

DAN AND PENNY Rahlfis were in the drug store on Saturday afternoon. They have a girl, Dana Catherine, born November 2nd at High Plains Baptist Hospital, but she was home with grandmother. Dana Catherine weighed 7 pounds 10 ounces and has had excellent care since her arrival. Grandparents are O.H. and Betty Rahlfis and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Shewbert of Dalhart.

TRICIA LOU HARGRAVE was seven years old last week and she had a party at the Corner Drug on Saturday afternoon. (You wouldn't believe how well behaved those little ones were. I must not have been the only mother that said, "Listen here....." They sang "Happy Birthday" and "How old are you now" and "She's seven years old." Tricia Lou received many exciting gifts. The birthday cake was chocolate and depicted the story of the Wizard of Oz. Pat Sims made it and had the yellow brick road leading to the castle. Dorothy, Toto, the Cowardly Lion, the Scarecrow, and the Tin Woodman were all traveling up the yellow brick road toward Oz. Angelique Henry, Joanna Hurst, Vickie Todd, Melissa Null, LaRae Sims, Genie Jackson, Karen Danner, Cari Greenfield, Tanya Geauthreaux, Mandi Shipman, Paula Dustman, Grandmother Joyce Wheat, aunt Willa Elliott, and of course Pat helped celebrate. Everyone was served ice cream and cake and the drink of their choice.

CHARLENE DUSTMAN OF Amarillo brought Paula down so that she could help Tricia Lou celebrate. Paula and Carl both had long dresses.

WILLA JANE McMANIGAL and Jim and Christi were at Lubbock for the weekend for Tech's homecoming. Willa Jane sent Tricia a gift.

SEVERAL HAPPY FOLKS have gone pheasant hunting in Springfield, Colo. Willa and Si Elliott left Saturday night. Jimmie and Don Ed Middleton and Mildred and Willard Middleton left Saturday morning. Tillie and Ira Scott of Hereford went with this group. Cone and Sweetie Johnson and Margaret and Jack Middleton also went. They were snow bound for a while, but they didn't let that keep them from having a good time. The pheasant population did not decrease.

MAX AND KATHY Middleton stayed with their great grandmother Holloway.

MAGGIE DOSHIER OF Ira near Snyder was buried on Sunday, November 5. Maggie was a sister to Bob, Bill and John Sims of Happy. She had three children, two of whom lived in Snyder near her. She is also survived by two sisters, Marie Hulet from the Valley and Pearl

Crocker of Waco. Neither's health permitted them to attend. Bob Sims, Ruth, Wendy and Jim Bob Sims, the Burl Sims family, Bill, Mable, Pat, Carol, and Carl Sims, and John, Lena and Eugene Sims from Happy attended the funeral.

FRED AND DUTCH Hall lost their grandson recently in Kermit, Texas. Fred and Dutch live on the Campbell farm and their grandson had spent most of last summer with them. Many of the neighbors knew him because of his many visits. Phillip Hall, twelve years old, was on his way to his junior high school on his bike when he was accidentally hit by a car. Phillip, known as Peanut, never regained consciousness. Our sympathy to Fred and Dutch.

THE ROYAL AMBASSADORS helped in the morning services on Sunday. They ushered, handed out bulletins. Some of them gave the RA Motto, the Pledge and read the Missionary Prayer Calendar. They were all recognized at the end of the service. And they sat on the front seat. Brother Paul grinned from "ear to ear" and said that was the quietest that he'd ever had them. Part of that grin was pride. Brother Paul is good for those boys.

ON DECEMBER 17, the Children's Choirs and Youth Group will present a Christmas Program entitled "The Greatest Christmas Story of All."

HAPPY JAYCEES ARE hauling off the limbs for the senior citizens of Happy. They said they'd continue as long as possible.

HAPPY RA'S ARE going to clean limbs out of some yards on Wednesday afternoon. Someone seemed doubtful that this was possible. They must not have had any boys.

SUNNYHILL HOME DEMONSTRATION Club is touring kitchen design and interiors today and dining out for their Thanksgiving dinner.

MARY ANN SIMS presided over a joint meeting of nine Rainbow Assemblies in Amarillo on Tuesday evening at Amarillo Masonic Lodge. This meeting honored the Supreme Service and Supreme Inspector of Texas, Mrs. Martha Marie Whitfield and her husband, Mr. Victor C. Whitfield. A large percentage of Rainbow Girls from Happy attended this meeting in formal attire. Others participating in the evening program were Cathy Parker and Brenda Parker.

JAN HENSON SPENT the weekend with us. She's a doll. We left her here Saturday night waiting on our family when we went to the Grand Cross Mystic Banquet in Canyon. She went to church with us Sunday morning. Then it rained Sunday afternoon and they were delighted that they might just have to stay on, but the roads were fine in a few hours. I enjoy those girls.

SHERI HENRY and Mary Ann Sims participated in the program at the Grand Cross Banquet in Canyon on Saturday evening. Pauline Wesley, Ruth Sims, Catherine Miller, Ora Mary Sims, Gracie Lee Tiley and I also went. Nine assemblies from this area were represented. One lady I know from Hereford introduced me to her husband and he said, "Are you Tom's wife?" (Small world.) Clara and I laughed. I visited with several old friends. Cortez Dowlen, our Grand Visitor, welcomed the group.

CHERYL ANN SCHAEFFER Morris was married Saturday night at the Methodist Church in Happy. The church was filled, I'm told, and it was a beautiful wedding. Did you see that picture and article in Sunday's paper? I'll save it for you Colleen, and you can come over and visit.

COLLEEN AND MELVIN Schaeffer left after the wedding for Houston to attend the Farm Bureau's convention there.

JANICE SHIPMAN WILL be getting married the thirteenth of January. Janice is engaged to Jesse Harkley Walton.

JESSE C. LANE underwent vascular surgery again on Monday afternoon. This makes three surgeries in two weeks for Jesse. Remember her with your cards and prayers.

LEE DOUGHTERY WAS hospitalized on Monday of last week with appendicitis. By the time they decided that was really what was wrong, Lee was better. He is at home again and in school this week.

MRS. MARION COOK was hospitalized on Thursday of last week. Remember her.

MARGARET MURDOCK WAS hospitalized on Monday night of this week.

RANDALL COUNTY'S FOOD and Fiber Abundance Program is this Saturday at the Rex Reeves Elementary School. You still have time to bake a loaf of bread (yeast) and enter it by 3 p.m. on Friday. Canyon Garden Club is sponsoring a contest for dried arrangements. This might be your category.

THEY ARE HAVING an excellent beef demonstration. You want to stop by and see it. They have an animal to take apart and show you just where each cut of beef comes from and more instruction and information. Don't miss it! Many put endless hours in on this project.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 19, the Happy Rainbow Girls meet at 2:30 at Ruth and Aden Mann's home to prepare and distribute their Thanksgiving boxes to the shut-ins and senior citizens of Happy and surrounding area. They do this each year and the visits are well worth the time and effort.

CANYON OES IS planning a bazaar on December 2nd at the old bank building on the square (that is going way back). They'll have lots of pretties for sale. They want to finish their kitchen. This group has really worked. Canyon Rainbow Girls will serve sandwiches and drinks during the day. Go by and Christmas shop and eat and drink!

MY NEW TELEPHONE number is 764-2158. It is correct in the Mid-Plains Directory, but not in the Happy Directory. Write it on your calendar or check book or something you don't throw away and call me your news. Everyone likes to read about everyone else.

I'LL BE IN Gruver this weekend at the grand opening of their new bank. My friend, Phyllis Bradley, has been appointed number one teller. Have to help her celebrate!

See ya!

THE CRAFTS GROUP OF AAUW will meet tomorrow at the home of Ada V. Clark at 9:30 a.m.

Members who wish to join the group should bring handwork or needlepoint.

I personally always love to go into Ada V.'s home, for she has so many clever items that she has crafted. The group should be getting started just in time for Christmas giving.

A CLEVER CHRISTMAS

CARD GREETING may be sent to those on your list by tearing a ragged edge square or rectangle of wall paper. Inside you may write—or have printed—the following message: "The bank won't give me credit; my budget makes me scheme; I can't offset the debit; as Scotch as I may seem; Not to send the Season's Greetings; Would never do at all; So to wish you a Merry Christmas; I tore the paper off the wall!"

Each line on the sheet ends at the designated semi-colons... then your name goes at the bottom.

This idea is credited to Louise Vaughan of Wellington.

TRAVELING IN TEXAS THIS MONTH? If so, you may note that the autumn colors reach their peak in the forestlands of East Texas—and foliage trails are charted around Winnsboro. Related events include a tour of pioneer homes, trail ride into the woods, fall flower show, and old-time foodstuffs like smoked hams and sorghum syrup.

FREE BULLETINS AT THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU (4th and Polk in Amarillo) include the following: "The Concern for Quality," "Home Improvements," "Earn Money at Home Schemes," "Your Credit" and, of course, numerous others.

IF YOU WILL SEND me some information on upcoming events in your club spectrum I will be glad to post them here. You may send them to me at home—1004 8th Ave.—or to me in care of The NEWS.

Family Activities

Planned At AC

The Family Activities Group of University Wives, Etc., has planned an evening of recreation and fun at the WTSU Activities Center on Friday evening, beginning at 7:30. There will be volleyball and games for children, as well as other family activities.

The group is open to families of faculty and staff of West Texas State University. Those wishing further information may contact Mrs. Sandra Sparling, chairman, 655-4530.

There's no parade, but these five horses are interested in something. Perhaps it's the fact that the first horse races are scheduled in early December at Panhandle Downs in Randall County. Fifteen horses call the Downs home now.

Wildlife Artist Hosts Art Group

Wildlife artist James Jokerst and Mrs. Jokerst hosted a Wednesday, Nov. 8, gathering of the art interest group of University Wives, Etc. in his home studio near Canyon.

Jokerst told the group that he strives for accuracy and believes an understanding of the subject and its habitat are essential for success. A college education in animal and plant association and anatomy. Having developed awareness and a sensitive eye for observation, he chooses incidental detail only to bring out the individual habitat and focuses upon a realistic execution of the subject.

Jokerst's pastel portraits of wildlife, described as "authentic in detail and delicate in perception," are shown in collections, offices and homes throughout the United States. They are currently on exhibition at TeePee Western Store in Amarillo, Crossroads of Sports, Inc. New York City, and Phillips Marina Galleries in Lubbock.

About 16 women attended the program, according to chairman Mrs. Ann Carlisle.

The group also met yesterday morning for a workshop in the Activities Center at WTSU.

AWOL Soldiers Admit Theft

Two AWOL soldiers, captured earlier this fall by a South Amarillo housewife in the kitchen of her home, pleaded guilty to reduced charges this week in Randall County court.

Michael Joe Clay and Gary Duwayne Hering, who were originally charged with burglary, faced charges in county court of theft under $50.

Clay was specifically charged with theft of peanut butter and bread and other food substances and Hering faced charges of theft of cookies.

Randall County Judge Woody Pond, after hearing the guilty pleas, set Hering's sentence at 1 year probation and a $1 fine plus court costs.

Clay was sentenced to 1 year probation and a probated $500 fine.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Robert McClendon said the two soldiers face court martial proceedings for going absent without leave when they are returned to their Army units.

Basketball Prospects More Thorns Than Roses

The Canyon High School girl Eagles got off to a good regular season start Tuesday night by drubbing Valley High 59-43.

It was the fourth straight win for the girls who earlier had taken three practice scrimmages with Plainview Clinic, Hale Center and Darrouzett Clinic.

Kim Killingsworth led the victory march with a total of 20 points. She was followed by Sheryl Gunter with 17 and Mindy Sterenberg with 10.

Also playing Tuesday, the junior varsity girls downed their Valley High counterparts by a score of 50-42.

In an afternoon game Tuesday, the sophomore girls defeated the Alamo Catholic High School varsity team by a score of 46-18, with Mary Lisa McBride dumping 23 points through the hoop.

Friday night, the varsity and junior varsity girls meet Petersburg in games to be played at the Canyon Gym.

In an earlier interview with The News, coaches B. B. Kendrick and Bob Schneider talked about the new basketball season and what Eagle fans could expect.

Experience, or possibly the lack of it, may well be the greatest single obstacle Canyon High School's two varsity basketball teams will have to overcome in the current season.

According to both coaches, Canyon will be depending heavily on recruits from last year's junior varsity squads.

The boy's team will boast one returning starter with the loss from the girl's state championship squad hitting 100 per cent.

Kendrick said Gary Gerber, a five-foot, eight-inch guard was his only leftover starter from 1971. He will have the services of three returning squaddies, Guards Wayne Pitt and Ed Lair and forward Bill Moore. Pitt stands 5-8 with Lair and Moore hitting 6-0 and 6-1 respectively.

Moore, Lair and Gerber were also members of the varsity football team and all reported for practice well behind other members of the hardwood team, the coach said.

To fill the important center post, Kendrick said he would call on Bob Counsellor and Ronnie Cates, both 6-4 and members of last year's junior varsity team. Both also play football.

Another JV player last year, Gary Don Byars, at 6-3, will be a prime candidate for one of the starting forward spots.

According to coach Kendrick, the schedule for this year has been set up to include several 2-A schools so that boy's and girl's teams may play on the same nights. Playing most of the games on Tuesday and Friday nights, several of the dates offer varsity and B-team boys and varsity and B-team girls.

Included this year are 4-A matches with all four Amarillo schools, Hereford, Pampa and Lubbock High School. Teams in 2-A include Spearman, Floydada, Friona, Phillips and Dimmitt.

"Most of the larger schools do not have girl's basketball," the coach said. "The 2-A schools do."

Kendrick said Levelland and Perryton should be the front runners in District 3-A this year, with each team having three returning starters. "They have to be big," he added.

Dumas will return four starters, Kendrick said of the team beaten by the Eagles twice last year.

According to the coach, Muleshoe would be in the same boat as Canyon, short on experience and not enough height.

Levelland will start one 6-6 player and two who reach 6-5. Perryton stands tall with one returnee hitting 6-6 and two at 6-5. Perryton also has a pair of 6-8 giants coming off the B-team, Kendrick said.

The coach said he believed his boys "wanted to play and had a lot of heart." He added that Eagle fortunes would depend mainly on how well the boys "came around and wanted to win."

Last year the Eagles won 13 while losing 15. Their district record was five wins and five losses.

Schedules are now available, the coach said, and include both billfold size and window posters.

"We have new warm-ups this year... a new look and I think the kids will give an all-out effort," said Kendrick in asking team support from the townspeople. "I think we'll be able to play with them... They'll have to beat us."

The girl's basketball team, with no returning starters from last year, will also rely on former JV players, says coach Schneider.

Of 13 girls on the squad in 1971, 10 were lost through graduation. The three returnees include Kim Killingsworth, a senior forward, Susan Hull, a senior guard, and Carla Ratliff, a junior guard. Another senior guard, Pebbie Luquette, has joined the team after missing the last season due to knee surgery.

Candidates from last year's JV team are Mandy Sterenberg and Diane Harp, both senior forwards. Other JV recruits expected to lend a hand are Sheryl Gunter, Alisha Nelson and Lynn Davis, also front court players.

According to coach Schneider, Sheryl Gunter is returning to action after knee surgery kept her off the JV team most of last season. He said the junior would be used in the post position.

Schneider said he would use former JV player Lynn Davis at both the forward and guard positions. Of Alisha Nelson, the coach said, "We expect good play from her."

Being "not tall" seems to be the second greatest shortcoming this year said the coach who apparently has his work cut out for him in trying to match last year's record.

The tallest girl on the team is Rhonda Umberson who stands about 5-9½. According to Schneider, the average starting height of the girl's team is about 5-5 or 5-6.

Lack of experience will possibly cause more problems than lack of height, says the coach. "We were not as tall last year," he added.

Schneider did say that despite his players lack of varsity experience, most had played a lot of basketball as members of the JV team. "After a few games we should be o.k.," said the coach. "We have one advantage and that is quickness." He went on to say that he would rather have small quick players than big slow ones. "Of course it's ideal when they are both big and quick," he said.

Judy McBroom, a junior, and Cindy Bullock, a senior, are other 1971 JVs expected to give the champs a shot in the arm. "And there are others who should help us," Schneider said.

The coach said the team will face the toughest schedule possible, including three tournaments. They are the Slaton Holiday Tournament, Tulia Invitational and the Sunray Invitational.

The coach said the schedule was full with no open dates this year. Teams to be played include Spearman, Claude, Friona, and a new opponent, Tahoka.

Because the 3-A girl's district is made up of only Canyon and Muleshoe, Schneider said he had tried to get the toughest non-conference schedule possible. He added that other schools in the district, such as Dumas, were starting girl's basketball in junior high and should have varsity teams within the next two to three years. This, with the possibility that other schools now playing varsity ball may return to class 3-A, should eventually enlarge the conference, said Schneider.

Muleshoe, the only conference roadblock to the girls' team, has four or five starters returning and should be stronger than last year. According to the coach, his girls do not play them until late January, giving him more time to bring his girls around. "By then we should have the experience we need," he said.

Trucker Admits Cattle Theft

Donald Eddie McKinney, charged with cattle theft in connection with the recent theft of $10,000 worth of cattle from Randall County Feed Yard, pleaded guilty to the charge this week.

McKinney, of Mississippi, had been arrested a week earlier in Lufkin.

He appeared before 181st District Judge Don Dean this week and admitted the theft. Judge Dean set McKinney's sentence at 6 years. The sentence was probated.

During the proceedings, McKinney testified that he was conned into stealing the cattle by an unidentified man in a bar in Amarillo, according to Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen.

Dowlen said McKinney testified that he did steal the cattle but at the urging of the accomplice, who later bilked him out of $300.

McKinney was one of four men who appeared before Judge Dean this week and pleaded guilty to various charges.

Steve Price pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery, but sentencing was delayed pending the results of a probation report.

Michael Sweatt, charged with possession of marijuana, pleaded guilty to the charge and received a four-year probated sentence.

Billy Walker received a three-year probated sentence on charges of burglary after he pleaded guilty.

CHS Choir Concert Set For Tonight

The Canyon High School Choir will present a fall concert tonight at the high school auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The presentation will feature numbers by the mixed choir, the chorale, the show choir and the freshman choir of Canyon Junior High School.

Several solo numbers and popular music will also be provided, said director Tom Jennings.

Numbers to be presented include selections from "Fiddler on the Roof," plus "Cantabro

"New" Ricky Nelson Coming To WTSU

It will be a "new" Ricky Nelson who will be coming to West Texas State University Sunday Nov. 19 — not the cute little fellow of "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" or the sultry, wavy-haired idol who sent young girls into paroxysms of screaming in the rock 'n' roll days.

Nelson will appear with his highly acclaimed country-oriented band, the Stone Canyon Band, as well as a top-flight improvisational group, the Ace Trucking Company. Performance time is 8 p.m. in the Fieldhouse.

The blue-eyed singer, whose hits of the 1950s included "Poor Little Fool" and "Lonesome Town," has made a comeback with both a new look and a new sound.

Nelson began his career at age 8 when he played himself on a television series with his mother and father and brother that ran 14 years. At 16 he became a major teenage singing idol, selling more than 35 million records. He appeared in several films, including "Rio Bravo" and "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" and on a TV series, "Malibu U."

Of his early career, he says, he is not ashamed. "I'm not embarrassed about the early Domino" by Lewovitch, "Sonah Will Be Done" by Dawson, "Christ Is Arisen" by Hassler, "I Love My Love" by Holst, and "If I Get My Ticket" by Shaw.

Soloists will include Sammy Kerbel and Mike Demus, both tenors. A Russian folk song, "Yonder, Yonder," is to be sung by Demus.

According to Jennings, the show choir will provide popular music.

The junior high choir is under direction of Gene Murray. There is no admission charge.

he says. "Every song I recorded I was really into at that time, but that's what a lot of people were into...I'm glad I went through all that."

The music of Bob Dylan has greatly influenced his new style, Nelson says.

Dylan's "Nashville Skyline," a country-flavored album which marked a new direction for Dylan himself, contained the naturalness that Nelson decided to strive for in his songs.

His first effort into the country style was a single recording of Dylan's "She Belongs To Me," a tune which was a hit. "Easy to be Free," a song of Nelson's own composition, made an even bigger splash.

Nelson says, his new musical career is more satisfying than his teenage idol days.

"It's really nice to go into a place where people are expecting to see what's happened to that kid they saw grow up on television, 'Little Ricky,' and then watch him blow their minds with his music," he says.

Tickets for the concert are priced at $4 for students and $5 for adults. WT students with entertainment cards will be admitted free. Tickets are on sale at the Activities Center box office.

Gene Howe News Thanks To Many, Chili Rousing Success

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

THANK YOU, BEAUTIFUL people! When the last light had been turned off at Gene Howe last Friday evening at about 10:30, close to 1600 lovely people had come to eat chili and visit with their friends and neighbors. Gwyn Sellers, chairman of the supper, reports that 570 pounds of chili, 100 pounds of beans and 480 hot dogs were prepared—every last bit consumed, too. No leftovers this year, in fact, ran a little short in places. She has already made a notation to her successor to "think big(ger)" next year. A very special thank you to all who came. Our little school building, was filled to capacity.

Gene Howe people are extra special people, and this fact was substantiated in full by the interest and support exhibited in their attendance and assistance Friday night.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Parent Teacher Association extends a sincere thank you to all who helped with the supper, including (but not limited to) the ladies who cooked; the ladies who helped with the serving; the men who lifted and toted those heavy cookers and pans all evening; the set-up crew; the take-down crew; and most certainly, the clean-up crew.

PAUSE IN YOUR reading right now and pat yourself on the back—whether you simply came, whether you worked, or whether you just bought a ticket to help out—each of you had a part in another successful project.

WINNERS IN THE ticket sales contests were many. Mrs. Woodward's third grade class won in the kindergarten through third grade division selling 92 tickets. Mrs. Langen's 4th grade class and Mrs. Taylor's 5th grade class tied in the fourth through sixth grade division, with the students in each of these rooms selling a total of 165 tickets per room. Each of these three rooms have been treated to banana split parties—courtesy of the PTA.

CASH PRIZES WERE awarded to the students selling the most tickets as follows: In the kindergarten through third grade division, Debbie McKinney took First place honors. Darin Ives was Second place winner. Darla Campbell, Keith Klein and John David Gray graciously shared Third place honors, as they each sold the same amount of tickets as the other. Teresa Polvadore and Wayne Wallace tied for Fourth place. In the fourth through sixth grade division, Cindy Todd took First place; Shonda Palmer Second place, Kelli Campbell Third place, and Dena Harp fourth place. Secretaries' Group Earns Award

Tierra Blanca Chapter of The National Secretaries Association (International) has earned its fourth Chapter Professional Development Award. The award signifies professionalism achieved through educational programs which bring knowledge, attitudes, and performance to higher levels of member participation, on an earned point system per member for the period of June 1, 1971 through May 15, 1972.

Mrs. Zelma Noel, 1971-72 president of the Tierra Blanca Chapter, secretary for Williams and Cox, attorneys, announced that the award would be shared with the local membership at its regular chapter meeting at 7:30 tonight at the West Texas State Bank. It will be officially presented by Mrs. Louise Gunther, the present chapter president, NSA, who is secretary to Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative.

The speaker for tonight's meeting will be a representative of the Social Security Administration Office in Amarillo, who will speak on social security and health benefits.

WTSU Program Draws Interest From Ohioan

West Texas State University's innovative performance-based teacher education program is becoming widely known throughout the country.

Dr. Joseph Wetmore, chairman of the department of education at Ohio Wesleyan University, plans to be on campus today to study the Teacher Center Project in the College of Education.

Dr. Jim Kidd, new dean of the College of Education, said Ohio Wesleyan has been working for about a year on a performance-based teacher education program.

Wetmore heard about the West Texas State project last summer when Dr. Emmitt D. Smith, then dean of the College of Education, spoke on WTSU's program at a meeting of educators in Evansville, Ind.

anywhere, as these youngsters sold close to four hundred tickets themselves. Could easily be said they have exhibited enthusiastic and effective support for a worthwhile project.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Wileta Johnson on the 19th. She says she doesn't mind being twenty-nine (again) at all.

DAN WHIPPLE, SON OF Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Whipple, didn't mind aging a year on the 10th either. In fact, he and friends had a grand time with a play-time birthday party. When they weren't playing boy-type games, they were eating boy-type goodies. Randy Whipple, Dale Bural, Kent Davis, Kyle Balke, Fred Allen Thomas, Toby Cox, David Bromley, Wayne Wallace, Kevin and Kelly Dozier, Rusty Riley and Marty Mulherin were only too glad to help Dan celebrate.

A GET WELL message to Mrs. Bill Edwards. Sarah spent a few days in the hospital recently. She is home now and feeling just fine.

THAT BANDAGE DECORATING the chin claimed by Mark Longhofer is covering a total of eighteen stitches. Mark is rather vague in the telling of how he acquired those eighteen stitches, but assuredly feels they have not slowed him down any. His mom and dad, Pat and Don, might not have viewed the situation as calmly as Mark, but they did manage to make a dash from the emergency room to the polls in time to stand in line to vote.

PHYLLIS HICKS, CO-OWNER of "The Matchbox" and wife of Johnny, who live on Sunburst, recently presented a program and workshop to 36 members of Arts Unlimited on the care and feeding of Terrariums. Webster says that a terrarium is a glass container chiefly or wholly enclosed for growing plants—we say terrariums are a lot of fun. Phyllis helped with the planting of these miniature gardens; and, after the tiny plants were snugly tucked into their new home, teeny ceramic animals or pretend mushrooms were put in place to further enhance the view. Phyllis pointed out that the "adornments" could be changed with the seasons or the holidays. These terrariums are fascinating and enjoyable—a dab of charcoal, a bit of soil, a few plants, and a little imagination combine to make a unique and personalized arrangement.

THERE WAS VERY little slumbering and absolutely no sleeping done at Pam Thrash's slumber party recently held in observance of her birthday. Tammy Thompson, Kay Tow, Leslie Bybee, Christie Allen, Teresa True, Janice Delaney and Lisa Erwin shared birthday greetings, pizza and the haunted house with Pam. Many happies, Pam.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT IS going around—would you believe another ball season is upon us—this time it's basketball. The girls are playing this time. Loydell Tennison is coaching the third and fourth grade team which won over Highland Park 22-8. Coach O'Neal Call's fourth grade team won over St. Mary's with a score of 15-2. Jean Ritchie and Luther Lawless are each coaching teams composed of fifth grade girls. Marylon Baker is coaching a sixth grade team, and Arlean Todd's sixth grade team rounds out the roster for Gene Howe. Mrs. Todd's girls have played two games and won two games. This is the first time out for a lot of these girls, but enthusiasm and determination to play their bestest rack up a lot of points for their side, whether or not same are indicated on the score board.

BE IT A case of enthusiasm or determination or simply questionable sanity, the men in the Mulherin family ignored the snow and the cold to get some end-of-the-season fishing in at Red River recently. Mart's guest, Troy Thompson, caught himself a fine trout brought home for display purposes. The rest of what the group purportedly caught were eaten. David Early, son of Wayne, joined with Mart and Guy in the grocery gathering. Wayne didn't.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

Mrs. George McGovern took her husband's defeat much harder than did the candidate himself. People close to the McGovern say the Senator was resigned to his political fate weeks before the balloting. I could have predicted this. Wives almost always are more concerned about their husbands than the husbands themselves. It has been my experience in the newspaper business that when I have to write something derogatory about a man, usually the wife is more angry about it. There are exceptions, but the man usually forgives — the wife, hardly ever.

The McGovern have more political storms ahead. In South Dakota, his home state, he was overwhelmed by the President November 7, and indications are he will be in deep trouble in his campaign for reelection in 1974. Mr. McGovern proved one thing — the ultra-liberal ideology is out of step with the country and with South Dakota. If the Republican's can field a candidate with any semblance of charisma, the Senator faces almost certain defeat in 1974. Like most retiring Congressmen or Senators, the George McGovern hardly face starvation. From teaching government he sprung, and to teaching government he no doubt shall return. He probably has a better chance of getting some of his far-out ideas carried to fruition this way through the efforts of one of his students at some far-off time than he ever did putting them into practice himself.

Speaking of retired legislators, Congressman Graham Purcell rented a U-Haul trailer after the election. He presumably departed for Washington where said she worked hard in their campaigns for reelection.

I think television and old folks homes have done as much as almost anything to disrupt the passing on to the younger generation their American heritage. There used to be a time when families conversed with each other at mealtime. This is not true anymore. There always is a good show coming on at mealtime, and some saboteur invented TV trays and TV dinners. So the family listens to Festus and Miss Kitty instead of to each other while having dinner at the end of the day. TV has served a purpose in that it has homogenized America. If you don't like the way folks do things one place in the country, it doesn't do you much good to move because things have a tendency to be in the same state of confusion in all fifty states.

I remember my Grandad spent a lot of his old age at our house where he was an honored member of the family. Everyone, including my father, listened when he spoke. From him I got glowing accounts of the winning of the west. I got second-hand a vivid description of the Battle of Shiloh where his father wearing a blue uniform had lost his right leg as a member of the grand old Army. He would even tell me stories that he had heard first hand from people who actually lived at the time Sam Houston was winning Texas. In a modern setting, he probably would either have lived far away or in a home for the aged, and I would have missed his wonderful tales of how a great nation grew up.

Stray Dog Banding Together and chasing cattle in the northern part of the county were about the only topic of discussion during a short session Monday of the Randall County commissioners.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher said he had been contacted by three landowners who complained of the stray dog menace.

"I don't know whether the county should look to some cooperative effort with the city of Amarillo to fix this," he said. "I don't know whether the court can do anything or not."

County Judge Woody Pond said he had talked with Sheriff's Deputy Cecil Johnson, the county's representative on the joint Potter and Randall animal control board, about the stray dog situation and that the board is studying preventive measures.

Paul Ferguson, refuge manager of Buffalo Lake, presented the court a check for $4210.49.

The government check is presented the county annually and is a kind of rebate on property taxes on the 7663 acres of land located within the refuge's boundaries.

The commissioners passed a motion that the money be split between the county and the Canyon Independent School District. It was generally believed that in past years, the money has

Lake Manager Due Range Use Honor

The manager of Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge will be honored during a two-day seminar in Lubbock in early December.

Paul Ferguson will be presented a certificate of recognition for his efforts in promoting good range management on the refuge.

The award will be made during a two-day conference meeting of the Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management.

The certificate is in recognition of excellence in range management and specifically concerns the management program instituted at the lake refuge.

Ferguson said he worked with experts from the federal Bureau of Sports, Fisheries and Wildlife and with consultants from the county Soil Conservation Service developing a range management plan about a year ago.

"We developed a plan based on the utilization of forage on the refuge so we still maintain wildlife habitat," he said.

Ferguson said the plan mainly concerns a winter grazing program for cattle, a program which allows grazing but only to an extent which doesn't deplete the grasslands.

Eagles Dreary Season Ends, Next One Eyed

It was a dreary season for Canyon High School's grid team. For the last 10 weeks, you could ask Coach Ron Mills how things were going and he'd reply "Not so good."

For the Eagles this season, that's an apt description.

The Canyon team wrapped up season play Friday night in a loss to Muleshoe. On the record books, the season will be racked up as a loser since the Eagles own a 1-9 record.

But, the record books won't tell the whole story. The record books for example, won't tell about the five AAAA high school teams the Eagles played early in the season.

The books won't tell about the various injuries which kept anticipated starters on the bench game after game.

In looking back over the season, Mills, who until this year had never experienced a losing season as a coach, said the tough early competition damaged the mental attitude of the team irreparably.

"I don't think we were ever really embarrassed," Mills said in retrospect. "But, we should have won the first and last games."

The Eagles, who went into the season as defending district champions, lost their initial outing to a AA team, Spearman, and their last game to Muleshoe in a district match.

"This year we had a chance to win four or five playing at our very best," Mills said. "I think we were beat down mentally and physically."

Mills noted that after meeting the five AAAA teams at the first of the season, the team suffered physically in the final district outings.

"We didn't have the same starting backfield or linebackers in any district game," he said.

Nevertheless, Mills remains proud of his team and his coaching staff.

"We were hurting for speed and experience," he said.

Of his coaching staff, Mills said he anticipates no changes, but that he will adjust assignments next fall.

And, next fall is the focus of his attention right now.

"Next year, we're not going to let the people worry us," he said. "We're going to approach the games with a different attitude. We're going to say 'Okay, we're in the big leagues and we're big boys and just ask the kids to do the best they can.'"

Water Tank Vandals May Create Reward

just east of West Texas State University Friday night may become the object of a reward, city manager George Louder told The News this week.

According to Louder, a high powered rifle was believed to have been used to cause the damage which was discovered when a passing motorist noticed water spraying down onto his car.

"I will place a request on the agenda (for Monday night's city commission meeting) asking the commission to offer a reward for arrest and conviction," Louder said.

The city manager said the most recent incident was the second such vandalism of the water tower within the past year.

"It's a dangerous thing," Louder continued, saying that such damage creates a loss of water pressure and lowers the city's firefighting capabilities.

Repair costs for patching the hole will be from $400 to $500 and will require out-of-town crews with stepladder equipment, the city manager said.

Another factor in the damage is the requirement that the one-half million gallon tank be drained down past the level of the hole, causing a costly waste of water.

Louder said it was possible that the person, or persons responsible did not realize the dangers and costs involved. "The only way to stop it is by prosecution and I think a reward might solve it," he added.

Hunters Should Keep Safety In Mind

The "in" color for the hunting season is hunter's fluorescent orange, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

A matching orange cap and vest is more than just fashionable. It will help hunters prevent what is considered a sartorial faux pas in the hunting game — bullet holes.

Parks and Wildlife Department officials point out that fluorescent orange is probably one of the most unnatural colors one could bring into a forest and that's a big plus in its favor.

There is no mistaking an orange vest coming through the woods for anything but man, so there is less chance of getting shot by someone who is a little too anxious to bring home a trophy.

Here are a few more safety tips from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department which should help hunters enjoy open seasons for years to come.

— Make sure of your target. Never shoot at something you can't see. Know where your bullet is going if you miss.

— Carry only unloaded firearms in a vehicle. Keep the actions open and the firearms in a carrying case.

— Take a little time when crossing fences. Lay your firearm flat on the ground on the other side of the fence and then crawl through.

— A firearm should never be used as a club. Wounded game should be finished off with another bullet or with a handy stick or rock.

— Use the right ammunition for your firearm. Using the wrong size shell is inviting disaster.

Phebean Class Holds Dinner

Phebean Bible Study Class of First Baptist Church held their Thanksgiving luncheon on Thursday, Nov. 9, in the home of Mrs. Helen Reynolds, with Mrs. Earl Burtz and Reeta Tucker as co-hostesses.

Yellow mums decorated Mrs. Reynolds' home. The table, laid with handmade, white linen tablecloth, was centered with an arrangement of candles and green grapes. Gold flatware was used.

In a short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Reynolds, new year books were handed out. Mrs. Tom Gooch gave the prayer, and Mrs. T.B. Cox gave a devotional on "Thankfulness."

Attending the luncheon were Mmes. Ed Weeks, Tom Gooch, W. R. Crow, H. M. Stokes, T. B. Cox, Paul Summers, Earl Davis, George D. Moore, Elmer Marshall, B. E. Rickett, Laura Hartman, Lee Allen, Leonard Winters, Miss Ona Mae McMurray, and the hostesses. Special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Foil.

The annual Christmas party was set for 7:30 p.m., Dec. 14, in the home of Mrs. W. R. Crow. Mrs. Earl Davis and Mrs. T. B. Cox will be co-hostesses.

Musical Group To Give Concert

"Vicki and the Royal Heirs," a seven-member musical group from Houston, will present a concert of gospel songs at Faith Chapel, 2700 4th Ave., on Saturday night, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Vicki Patterson, featured soloist in the group, is a former West Texas State University student and performer in the "Texas" production. She was originally from Pampa. Bill Patterson, her husband, is also a former WTSU student and director of the Faith Chapel choir during his college days. He sings in the back-up quartet.

Another couple in the group, Royce and Roberta Grant, will also be remembered by many Canyonites. They are former residents, Mr. Grant having operated an interior decorating business here. Roberta plays piano for the group and Royce is a member of the quartet.

The two other members of the quartet are Gene Allen of Houston and Dennis Richardson of Joplin, Mo. Eddie Martin, originally from Spearman, is the organist.

The public is invited to attend the concert at no admission charge, but a free will offering will be taken, according to the Rev. Jack Cornell.

Sunday morning services at 11 a.m. at Faith Chapel will be carried out entirely by members of the Houston musical group. Following the services, they will continue to their next tour engagement in Lubbock.

"Vicki and the Royal Heirs," to appear in concert at Faith Chapel next Saturday night, include four former residents in their musical group. (see story). They are, seated,

Vicki Patterson and Roberta Grant; and, standing, Dennis Richardson, Eddie Martin, Gene Allen, Bill Patterson, and Royce Grant.

Mrs. Downing Hosts HD Club

Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club heard Mrs. Becky Hall, County Agent, speak on "Shopping Sense" at their Thanksgiving luncheon held on Nov. 8 in the home of Mrs. Allen Downing.

Mrs. Hall showed slides of some common mistakes made in shopping, and members took part in a skit portraying "a family shopping spree." After analyzing the skit, the county agent gave tips on planning shopping trips, making lists, and other useful shopping information.

In a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Joe Rice, the club voted to give $10 to Meals on Wheels. Names were drawn for the Christmas tea gift exchange.

Special guests present were Mrs. Hall and Mrs. H. G. Verner of Petersburg.

Members attending were Mmes. J. H. Barrett, Johnny Robinson, Walter Cranmer, Blaine Hufnagle, Wire Wright, Edgar Robinson, H. M. Stokes, Jim Irlbeck, Albert Myers, and John Jennings.

The club will next meet for their Christmas tea at 2 p.m. on Dec. 20 in the home of Mrs. A. K. Goodman.

CHS Class Needs Old Candles

The art department at Canyon High School this week issued an appeal for old or used candles which they need to carry out sculpturing work.

Mrs. Charlotte Brantley of the high school told the News Tuesday that persons having candles to donate may contact her at the high school.

Cowboys...

hard "to get the team up" for the battle that will have no bearing on the district race. "They have some big kids," Criswell added, "four or five 200 pounders."
The Cowboys climaxed the season last Friday night at home by blasting a contending Sundown team 63-0. In picking up 596 total yards, the Cowboys for the fourth time this year amassed more than 500 total yards.
After dropping the season opener to Class-A Claude by a 30-19 score, the Cowboys have unleashed their awesome power and speed on eight conference members, scoring 363 points while allowing only 38.
On three occasions, Happy has shut out the opposition by overwhelming scores of 50-0, 64-0 and 63-0. Another shut out was by a score of 27-0.
According to Criswell, no injuries were suffered in last week's romp over Sundown.
In regard to this week's encounter at Meadow, Criswell said he expects to see the Bronchos go to the air quite a bit. "They throw a lot," the coach said.

The Bronchos will be one of the heaviest teams to be played by the Cowboys, and will offer a high scoring potential. The Meadow team posted a 60-6 victory over Amherst two weeks ago and last week downed Nazareth by a 28-0 score.
Leading the way for the Cowboys will again be halfbacks Chris Pearson and Greg Looney, spelled by the running of fullback Johnny Payne.
Quarterback Mark Hargrave, who keeps the Cowboys on the ground most of the time, has shown vast improvement in his ball handling and field generalship during the last two or three outings, said Criswell.
The fast and hard-running backs are aided and abetted by a forward wall averaging some 200 pounds.
According to coach Criswell, the site of the Happy-Groom playoff game should be known sometime this weekend, possibly Saturday. "We are trying for a neutral field," he added.

Lake...

federal government for the ultimate transformation of Buffalo Lake into a minimum recreation area.
Speedboating and waterskiing will be "toned down," Ferguson said, with the eventual idea of phasing these activities out altogether.
In the initial years of the seven-year period, for example, boating and skiing and swimming will be limited to certain sections of the lake.

Next summer, Ferguson hopes the lake will be filled enough to allow fishing, swimming, boating, skiing and all other kinds of recreational activities.
But, in years to come those activities will be restricted or severely limited.
Ultimately, Ferguson sees the establishment of three nature trails covering eight miles for hikers to view the wildlife and vegetation of the refuge.
A visitor center, to be constructed at some time before the end of the seven-year period, would serve as the hub of the hiking trails.
Routes for the winter waterfowl tour would be extended.
In many areas, cars and other vehicles will be strictly prohibited so wildlife won't be disturbed.
Environmental study areas for area researchers, perhaps from universities, and for students will also be established for that use only.
The goal is to keep the refuge environment as natural as possible.
Parking will be limited to certain areas and camping will likewise be regulated.
Ferguson said the government is not trying to discourage visitors to the refuge, but is simply trying to fulfill a need for the public in this area.
He noted that boating, skiing and swimming enthusiasts have ample opportunity to play their sports at Lake Meredith, just a short driving distance from anywhere in the Panhandle.
But, he said, there are few areas in the Panhandle which provide the type activities which the redirected Buffalo Lake will provide.
"We're not trying to shut off the valve just like that," he said, "motioning with his hand. "We will continue to encourage people to use it."
He stressed the change in roles will be gradual.
One change already instituted involves money.
Recent guidelines say the refuge can no longer charge a fee for entrance to Buffalo Lake. So, next summer's fishermen, boaters and skiers will be able to enjoy a free recreation area.

sociate member before he could become a regular member.
Dugan has served the Cleta club as parliamentarian, photographer and council delegate. In addition, he has served on the recreation, community, finance, program and cards and gifts committees.
Projects he's completed include leadership, health, recreation, swine, tractor, automotive, field crops, lamb, horse, safety, money management, photography, electricity, and beef cattle.
He has won awards for projects in safety, electricity, horses, petroleum power and sheep.
Dugan's record book won first place in leadership at the district level for 1972 and was subsequently entered in state competition.
He has been a member of the Randall County Junior Leaders organization two years.
Miss Reynolds, a senior at Canyon High, has been a member of 4-H nine years.
She has won 4-H awards in horses, safety, clothing, dairy food, dress review, foods and nutrition and leadership.
Currently, she is in charge of public relations for the district 1 4-H Council, which includes representatives from clubs from a majority of the counties in the Panhandle. She served as a delegate to the council a year before becoming public relations chairman.
In local 4-H activities, Miss Reynolds has served in every office. She was president of the club in 1969.
Last summer, she helped with modeling at the four-county fashion seminar in Pampa. She also helped with the modeling at the district dress review in Amarillo last summer.
She has been a participant in the district dress review and has also competed at the district level in favorite foods.
Outside her 4-H activities, Miss Reynolds is current Randall County Sheriff's Posse Queen.
In her record book, Miss Reynolds lists as her most valuable benefit from 4-H, experience in leadership.
In looking to the future, Miss Reynolds said she is undecided on whether to attend college.
"But, if I do go to college, I want to become a doctor," she said.
She said she'd also like to go into politics.
Through both, she sees avenues to help people.
While he's just a sophomore, Dugan says he's not looking to college, either at this time. He says he'd like to be an auto mechanic.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said early this week he expected 11 more applications to be filed, but later that number was reduced to 9.
Apparently, though, those applications, which are expected from a chain convenience store management, were caught in a quagmire on zoning with the City of Amarillo.
County officials expressed last week the opinions that they don't expect to see a bar on every corner in the new wet area.
County Judge Pond vowed to make a thorough investigation of each applicant.
He also noted that various state laws prohibit the selling of alcoholic beverages in certain areas of the county.

Buffalo coaches this week is the ground offense, which had been so effective for much of this season. The Mavericks held the Buffaloes to 160 net yards on 49 carries Saturday and West Texas had been averaging 270 yards rushing per game for the first eight games.
Freshman Clois Burgess, who replaced Pritchett at the fullback post in the Buffaloes' Wishbone offense, led his team with 55 yards against Arlington. Rick Schleider, another freshman, rushed for 44 yards, playing in place of Lisle.
Cole Fraley, the Buffs' leading ball carrier for the season, was held to his season low—26 net yards on 14 carries. The 200-pound sophomore has 137 carries for the season for 707 net yards.
Pritchett is second among the Buffalo runners with 436 yards and Lisle has gained 405. Burgess is next with 243, followed by Schleider, who has one less yard.
Mike Wartes has completed 20 of 70 passes for 411 yards to pace the Buffalo air game. Split end Carl Brown leads in receptions with 12 for 267. Tight end Merced Solis is second with 11 for 161 yards.
North Texas State, which carries a 1-8 season record into the contest, is looking for its first MVC victory, against five losses.
The Eagles' ground game is led by junior halfback Charles Johnson, who has 655 net yards. Quarterback Rick Shaw has completed 47 of 177 passes for 734 yards. Split end David Kervin is the leading receiver with 28 catches for 472 yards, followed by flanker David Yaege, with 26 for 494 yards.

Petition...

The petition is to be presented to the city commission when circulation ends.
"We feel like there's some way this can be worked out to the benefit of everybody without putting somebody out," he said.
Talking with the News last week, Ezzell said the possibility that parking might be removed from 23rd street to facilitate the installation of turn signals has been discussed by the Jaycees before they decided to circulate the petitions.
"We decided the people should just have to get along without the parking if that's what it takes to have safety," he said.

Police records indicate the highest accident rate in the city is at the 23rd and 4th intersection.
Ten accidents have occurred this year at the intersection and 21 have occurred there since last September.
In addition, other high accident areas are located at the intersection with 23rd Street at 5th Avenue and 10th Avenue.
Ezzell told The News the accidents caused an estimated $12,000 to $13,000 in damages at the 23rd and 4th Avenue intersection alone during the period beginning in September 1971.

During past years, hunter success has been almost 100 per cent on the Lighthouse property, with 28 animals being taken on the 31 permits issued during the period.
Overall, the average is not that good, with less than 50 per cent success being expected.
This year in Randall County, 24 permits for the aoudad were issued. For the four-county area open to hunting, 153 permits were available.

Rex Reeves Class Has Unique Display

The 5th grade class of Mrs. R. D. Wheelock at Rex Reeves Elementary School in Canyon has a unique arrangement for keeping an up-to-date seasonal display, thanks to help from a classroom mother.

At this time of year, the mural-like, blackboard size bulletin board depicts the Thanksgiving season and was done by Mrs. Gary Fletcher, mother of student Gary Fletcher.

The background drawing of a fall scene was done by Mrs. Fletcher and the children have added works done by themselves in class.

Additions to the board by students include Pilgrims, turkeys, pumpkins, houses and teepees complete with Indians.

One of the more important aspects of the display, says Mrs. Wheelock, is that although provided with the professional-type background, students are required to keep their own works in the proper perspective and proportionate in size. The teacher said the current display

Magazine Sales Net Junior Class $3,000

The junior class of Canyon High School this week ended a two-week long magazine sales campaign which netted more than $3,000 to be used for class projects.

According to Mrs. Charlotte Brantley, some 140 students from the 230 member class took part in the sales program. A total of $8,100 worth of magazine subscriptions were sold, with the class getting 40 per cent of that amount.

Several members of the class won prizes as a result of a sales contest. Walter Henson took first place and won a new 10-speed bicycle by selling $711 worth of subscriptions. Finishing close behind and winning a stereo tape player was Dan McGlasson, who sold subscriptions totalling $663.

According to Mrs. Brantley, about 20 students won "Class of '74" T-shirts by selling ten or more subscriptions by the first reporting day, Oct. 30, three students won blacklights for their sales efforts. They were Dan McGlasson, Craig Green and Steve McDaniel. By that

Amarillo Club Gives Stipend

The Amarillo chapter of the American Business Women's Association has awarded a $100 scholarship to West Texas State University sophomore nursing student Lajuana Dell Bailey of Ft. Sumner, N.M.

Miss Bailey will receive the grant each semester until graduation.

Mrs. Carma Tinkham, ABWA president, said the scholarship is given to "any deserving girl who needs help towards her education."

The association, which awards two scholarships, has previously given the assistance exclusively to students at the Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing in Amarillo.

Miss Bailey, 19, second of nine children, has worked as a nurse's aide at a Ft. Sumner hospital, where she gained "a little bit of experience in everything," Mrs. Tinkham said.

She was called on to use that experience this past summer when she had to help deliver the family's ninth child at home.

"We just live a couple of blocks from the hospital, but we just didn't have enough time," Miss Bailey said.

Betty Baxter, Evangelist, Speaks

The Betty Baxter Story will again be presented at First Assembly of God Church this weekend when the touring evangelist returns to Canyon. Mrs. Baxter, appearing in July, drew large audiences to hear her personal story of faith healing.

The Betty Baxter Story will be featured in services Friday and Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The public is invited at no admission charge, but a freewill offering will be taken.

Sherman Acres News Three Anniversaries Celebrated

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

A VERY PLEASANT week to you this thirteenth week of school. Those report cards have been brought home for the second time this year and we have been so very proud of all you students efforts. We're happy with our school system and the values our students are learning.

TO VICKI HOOKER of the Palisades Palaver, we've really enjoyed reading your column and will miss you much. We know that the Psychiatric Pavilion will be blessed having you as an occupational therapist. Good luck to you, Vicki. Also a big welcome to Mildred Turner. Looking forward to meeting her.

RECENT GUESTS IN the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Leith and children were Wanda's parents Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Luedecke of Pampa and an aunt, Mrs. Claude Baldwin.

VISITING THIS WEEK in the home of her son and family Sherman and Oleta Jones is Mrs. Eunice Jones of Littlefield. Sherman, Oleta and Lee Don went to Littlefield Friday night and brought her back with them Saturday.

MRS. DON TANKERSLEY of Antoine Street, who teaches children with learning disabilities in the Amarillo Public Schools, is in San Antonio this week to attend the state TACLD meeting. We know she is receiving much to help her in her field of work.

YESTERDAY WAS THE birthday of Brenda Glenn and Robby Boss. Hope you both had a very happy day. Happy birthday tomorrow to William Janelle and Saturday to John Gaston Jr. Then on Tuesday Brenda Baker celebrates her day. A most happy birthday to each of you.

JUST GOTTA announce the birth of our first great nephew on my side of the house. He is little James Pete Tiffie, and was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Tiffie of Amarillo on Nov. 7. He weighed in at four pounds, eight ounces. At present he is residing in intensive care at Northwest Texas hospital, but hopes and plans are to get him home real soon.

THREE COUPLES OUT here are celebrating wedding anniversaries this week. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stricker of Antoine Street were married on November 15, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen on November 18, and Mr. and Mrs. James Baker on November 17. The Allens live on McCormick Road and the Bakers live on Rosemary Street. A very happy anniversary wish to each of you.

MR. AND MRS. Alvin Settle have moved from their home on Bordeaux Street to Lubbock where Mr. Settle is now working. We'll surely miss them from our neighborhood but wish them success in their new surroundings.

GUESTS IN OUR home over the weekend were Billy's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Griffin and their children Carol, Fonda and Allen from Olton. Molly and I went to an Oster cooking demonstration in Western Plaza Saturday while Billy, Eugene and the children attended the Veterans Day Parade and the 1973 automobile show in the Civic Center. Took the kids skating Saturday night and they had a ball celebrating Fonda's birthday. We all went to church Sunday morning and ate lunch out. Surely did enjoy the visit.

SEE THAT CONSTRUCTION is getting started on the new house for the Jack Nance family. They have done a lot of planning and must be really anxious now that the building has begun.

BROWNIE TROOP 181 under the leadership of Karen Sheffy, Judy Hill, Nelda Newman and Jo Ell Newman have been working on tray favors for the hospital and rest home in Canyon. Also they have collected current magazines to place there. At regular meeting time Tuesday they visited LaCasa home and delivered the things they have made. The girls in this troop are Tammy Bonner, Suzanne Bromlow, Melissa Carruth, Leslie Gordon, Donna Grimes, Kemi Hill, Holly Hooper, Sondra Lacy, Debbie Mankins, Niki Newman, Quinell Newman, Stephanie Raymond, Meg Reeves, Michelle Rider, Ellen Scarbrough and Kristi Sheffy. Their theme for the year is "helping others; and they are really carrying it out well.

THANKS FOR THE news calls this week. We can use all your news happenings, so do give me a call at 351-2951.

Continuing Education Program At WTSU To Aid Area

When its new continuing education division begins operation, hopefully just after the first of the year, West Texas State University will truly serve the Tri-State area.

That's the hope of Dr. Emmitt Smith, who was named last month by university regents as director of the new division.

Continuing education, in Dr. Smith's words, is education sought not for a degree, but for a continued upgrading of skills and knowledge. It isn't correspondence courses.

Dr. Smith envisions a program which would offer courses from the university in towns in the Tri-State region.

"It shouldn't be confused with degree-seeking education," he said. "It's not aimed at any degree. Typically, it comes as a result of the needs people feel after they enter the work world."

Dr. Smith said continuing education is a renewal effort "where as new information and ideas emerge from research and development, people can keep up to date in whatever field they want to continue to study."

In the field of agriculture, for example, new information is constantly resulting from research, information of value to farmers and ranchers of the region.

The continuing education program would provide for people who want to continue in an educational field purely for interest sake or for personal development.

Mechanically, the program will probably include many Canyon campus-based courses, but Smith visualizes the establishment of extension courses in regional cities.

He also foresees WTSU collaboration with the two-year institutions in the Panhandle.

"We hope to develop this continuing education effort with the full knowledge and cooperation of the two-year institutions in the region," Dr. Smith said, "with emphasis on Amarillo College because in no way do we intend to develop a competitive operation."

Extension courses or courses taught in the continuing education program on the local campus will be instructed by faculty members of the university.

In some cases, residence credit could be given for the courses, particularly for courses in conjunction with area two-year colleges.

"For instance, right now, we have two courses going at A.C.," Smith said. "Dr. John Roberts is teaching two courses there primarily to the faculty at A.C. These courses are offered for residence credit."

Dr. Smith said the recent establishment of a continuing education division at WTSU is "a basic response to a need."

Even so, the needs of the people in this area have not really been assessed in terms of what they would like to see offered.

The initial step, then, in establishing continuing education programs is assessing those needs and fabricating a program to meet those needs.

"We will not create a program just hoping people will take it," he said. "It will be in response to a need."

Currently, there is no projected timetable on development of the new division, but Dr. Smith predicts the division will be fully functional in two years.

WT Maintenance Group Elects Officer Slate

Ray Custer was named president of the Canyon chapter of the Texas Public Employees Association Friday night.

Custer is an employee of the West Texas State University maintenance department.

Larry McLendon, a patrolman with the Texas Department of Public Safety, was named vice president.

Polly Lindley will serve as secretary-treasurer. She is also an employee of WTSU maintenance department.

Custer said the newly formed chapter has 75 members, all but one of whom are employees at WTSU.

The chapter was formed last month after discontent with salaries and benefits were revealed by several maintenance department employees and made public through The Canyon News.

Directors named for the chapter Friday night were Ray Bible, Wayne Trout, Dwayne Newton and Ruth Birkhead.

In addition, a constitution and by-laws were adopted.

Turkey Shoot Is Saturday

Lambda Mu, honor society for math students at West Texas State University, will sponsor a Turkey Shoot Saturday at the ROTC Rifle Range on the north part of the campus.

Three turkeys will be given to winners of first, second and third prize.

Participants will fire five shots for 75 cents and the best shot wins.

The shoot starts at 10 a.m. and ends at 4 p.m.

The society will furnish .22 caliber rifles for the shooters.

Minimum age for participants will be 15 years of age.

Proceeds from the shoot will be used by the society for a spring trip.

Tows Place in Post Motorcycle Enduro

By TOOTIE BYBEE
HELLO AGAIN. I suppose this cold, cold weather has kept everyone in and close to the ole fire place, huh!!
WELL, BET NONE of you missed that big chili supper at Gene Howe the other evening, did ya.
Doesn't seem as if anyone was absent. From all reports it was really a big success. Good chili and a good time was had by all.

SINCE BOTH OF my girls have been sick and home I have been unable to get out and see what all is going on. So if this is short that's why.

THE LADIES THURSDAY Club met on a windy, blustery day Thursday at Joyce Minor's home. We were few in numbers due to the bad weather, but high in spirits. Joyce will most definitely start the first chapter of the "Late Great Planet Earth" this week no matter who is or is not present, due to the fact we will be on this, this time next year otherwise. So, please be present, bring book and Bible and head for thinking, O.K.? We will meet this week at Mike Whiteheads and I'll see you there.

A VERY SPECIAL thanks to Sue Brooks for the "cheer-up" she brought to our house along with sweet Barbara the other day. A special thanks to Katy Bell my darling for the addition to my tea pot collection and the lovely flowers.

THE TOWS MADE a trip to

Post Saturday evening and spent the night and entered the Post Motorcycle Enduro. Mike won third place in the 250 B class with Dale taking a second in the 100 A class. Daddy I.J. would have won, but they don't give trophies for fiftieth, oops, I mean fifth place. HA, HA. Anyway the I.J. Tows and the Bob Tows had a very good time.

TRACY GILLIS IS playing on the Gene Howe mixed third and fourth grade team. They played Highland Park Saturday and won 22-8. Yea team.

NOW I WANT to tell you that the 6th grade team coached by Marylon Baker may not be winners in numbers, but they are in fun and friendship. Of course, you must realize that none of the girls have played before—well, maybe a few have. But a lot of the teams have the good advantage of playing several years and also, having the distinct advantage of always playing together on the same team. So, anyway good luck to these girls and we are all behind you win or lose!!

WELL, HOWARD'S BUSY with work, Shirley's busy with Toie painting, Greg's busy with college, Christie is busy with church and school, and Doug's busy with the new piano lessons and Bert is busy just being Bert!!

JUST HAD A call from Mr. O'Neal Call and those 4th graders really laid it on St. Mary's 15 to 2. You girls are just great and you have a wonderful coach. So, go get 'em.

LENISE CAN'T WAIT to get back with you all.

HEY, WE'LL SEE ya all again next week with a little more news I hope. Call 622-1471.

They said she couldn't do it and she proved them wrong. Rosetta Baer underwent major surgery not long ago and sports her big smile because she proved her friends wrong Saturday and rode her bicycle the 10 or so miles to Palo Duro Canyon and back to Canyon in spite of the weather. Miss Baer, a student at West Texas State University, said her feat proves bicycle riding is a great sport "for whatever illness you may have had."

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it — and so do its readers.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

"DON PASQUALE" with Gimi Beni, New York opera star, will open Friday and run Saturday, November 18; Monday, November 20; and Tuesday, November 21.

Beni arrived last week to join in rehearsals with the WTSU company.

The famed opera buffo will appear in the title role. He made his professional debut in 1955 when he performed the comical Pasquale with the Rome Opera.

He has to date, sung the role over 100 times and appeared in numerous others throughout the United States.

Ticket requests may be made through the Fine Arts Building box office.

William A. Moore is acting coach; Royal Brantley is workshop director; and James Kemmerling is technical director.

TODAY GIMI BENI WILL DISCUSS his life and experiences as a professional operatic performer at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre.

NEXT SUNDAY THE ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE, Gimi Beni, will sit on a panel with Royal Brantley, William Moore, and Ray C. Johnson for discussion of the many aspects of opera in this country and abroad. The event is slated for 3 p.m. in the Theatre.

"ARTS-IN-ACTION" sponsored by the Fine Arts Council of Amarillo is scheduled in the Civic Center Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

At NO CHARGE to exhibitors or to those attending — there will be enjoyable symphony music, ballet companies performing, art to see (and purchase).

If you are at all interested in the arts, this will be the place to be Saturday. And, if the first event is successful you will see national coverage for our artists, performers, and the Amarillo area in several prominent magazines.

So try to attend, if at all possible, and help this be a great day for the arts.

ELAINE MAPLES ART SHOW WILL OPEN with the Opera Workshop production next Friday evening in the Formal Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

A reception for the artist will be held next Sunday afternoon. More on this next week.

VELOX WARD WILL EXHIBIT at the Amarillo Art Center through January 12.

THE ORGAN GUILD will perform at the Presbyterian Church in Canyon at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

There is no admission.

Any amount of money is appreciated and the membership categories are: $5-$49, sustaining; $50-$99, contributor; $100-$249, patron; $250-$499, benefactor; $500-$999, founder and $1000, is truly an angel.

Simply mail your check to Dr. John Green, Dean of the School of Fine Arts, WTSU, Canyon, Tex.

Send an early Christmas gift to "FRIENDS". It will be appreciated.

BALLET BRIO, the first offering of the Canyon Community Concerts will be held next Sunday at 4 p.m. at the high school. More next week.

THURSDAY the Texas Boys Choir will be in Clovis with the Community Concerts and you may see it through reciprocity.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS NOW! This will be a very busy and worthwhile week in the arts.

Reception Planned By Friends of Fine Arts

The home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Manly Bryan, 2 Bramblewood Ln., will be the setting Friday evening for a reception honoring Gimi Beni, operatic baritone starring in "Don Pasquale" this weekend at West Texas State University.

The reception is being hosted by board members of the Friends of Fine Arts, the organization responsible for bringing Beni to the WTSU campus as artist-in-residence. Invitations have been extended to about 475 members of the Friends of Fine Arts.

Co-hosting with the Bryans will be Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne O'Keefe, and Max Motley, all from Amarillo.

Dr. and Mrs. John Green, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fulton, and Mrs. R. A. Neblett, all of Canyon, are assisting with arrangements. Also on the planning committee are Mrs. C. Richard Wagner and Dr. and Mrs. Hal Riddle of Amarillo.

Society Plans Flower Show

By REBA RAEF
GREETINGS, AGAIN, FROM this grateful little community—grateful to God, for weather nice enough to feed 3250 people last Sunday. These were paid tickets. How many little ones under the age of six years, is anybody's guess. All in all, it was a very gratifying day, for all concerned. Among former Umbarger residents, who were here were, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Friemel, from Aransas Pass, Tex., Tom Raef, from Clovis, the Jim Wiecks and Marvin Batenhorst families, from Hartley, Stanley Wieck, from Dalhart, and probably a good many more, that we did not see. We were glad to have them all, as well as the "regulars," who come each year to eat sausage with us, also the "first timers," too. The winners in the raffle were: First, $175.00 cash, Clarence Beckman; Second, 1/4 beef, Jim Grabber; third, 1/4 beef, L.J. Wieck; fourth, 2 tires, Joe Meyer, Adrian; fifth, 25 lbs. sausage, Bill Alexander, Amarillo; sixth, 10 lbs. sausage, Richard E. Friemel; seventh, 2 cases oil, Gene Grabber; eighth, electric yard light, Willie McAlpine, Canyon; ninth, grill, Lorene Gidden, Canyon; tenth, electric knife, Max P. Hoffman, Amarillo; eleventh, 4 tires, Ed Wieck; twelfth, 1 tire, Mrs. Jack Brandt; thirteenth, 2 table lamps, Leroy Lamb.

ACCORDING TO JACK Barrow, racing secretary for Panhandle Downs, there are now 15 horses stabled at the Downs. They are being galloped every day, by the two trainers. Looks very favorable for the Downs. More horses are expected in the near future.

ALL WHO ARE interested in the Umbarger Community Consigned Auction sale, remember that Nov. 18, is the deadline for your items on the sale bill. The auction is set for Dec. 2.

THE UMBARGER 4-H club will meet Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the K. of C. hall. Darroll Adams is scheduled to give a report on the workshops, held last Saturday.

CHRISTOPHER DAVID, INFANT son of Darroll and Mary Adams, was Baptized last Saturday evening. Godparents were Carroll and Evelyn Adams. Guests for the ceremony were Darroll's aunts, Mrs. Howard Holcomb and Mrs. Edith Cole, from Amarillo. Other guests of the Adams families are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Adams, from Stratford, Okla., parents of the Adams boys.

MISS JACKIE FARMER, from Las Cruces, New Mex., visited her grandparents, the Henry Brachts, and her aunt and uncle, the Jack Brandts, Sunday.

ST. MARYS' ALTAR Society is planning a flower show, for Sunday, Nov. 26, in the parish hall, from 2 to 4 p.m. There will be 3 divisions, adult, 12 through high school and under 12. The purpose of the show is to make an arrangement from natural materials, such as bean pods, seed pods, from trees, dried fruits, gourds, berries of all kinds, grain heads, cattails, etc. Those arrangements that are suitable, will be eligible to be used on the altar, for decorations. Mesdames Dennis Brandt and Mrs. Jack Brandt are in charge of the show. Everyone is invited to enter an arrangement in the show. Ribbons will be awarded for the best entries. Qualified judges will do the judging. It was also decided to give a baby layette to Catholic Charities, for Christmas. Plans to have a Christmas party for the older women of the community were left up to the program chairman and the hostesses for the December meeting, Mesdames Jack Brandt, Don Dolle and Alois Friemel.

THE POSTMASTER, AMALIA Bracht, announces that there will be no window service on Thanksgiving day. The lobby will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Freshman Footballers Close Season Against WSU Shockers

West Texas State University's freshman football team closes its season with a 1:30 p.m. Saturday game at Wichita State against the Shocker freshmen.

The young Buffaloes of coach Ronnie Mankin have won four of their five games this season, while the Wichita State freshmen have lost all four of their games. The Shocker freshmen have, however, been boosted by several sophomores who are dropping back to play on the first year team.

Mankin has guided his team to wins over Cisco Junior College, 17-7; North Texas State's freshmen, 65-14; New Mexico Military Institute, 21-16; and last week over the Eastern Arizona eleven, 52-7. The lone loss was a 20-13 decision against Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

Wichita State has been beaten by Nebraska, 47-13; Kansas State, 21-6; Tulsa, 46-14; and Houston, 71-0.

The leading ball carrier on the freshman team from Wichita is 190-pound Fred Speck. The former Johnson, Kan., athlete returned a kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown in the opening varsity game of the year against Texas A&M.

Joe Horton from Parsons, Kan., quarterbacked the Shocker freshmen. He has connected on 36 of 69 passes for 452 yards and two touchdowns. The top receivers are freshman Jim Yeres and sophomore Gerrald Taylor.

Mankin's young Buffaloes will play the final game without several starters. Quarterback Mike Adams and Pat Merritt will not play because of injuries. Adams has a broken hand and Merritt injured his knee against Eastern Arizona Friday night.

Mike Lozano, who quarterbacked that game for much of three quarters, has an injured knee. Offensive and defensive tackle John Jacobi injured a shoulder against Eastern Arizona and might not play.

Others with more minor, but painful injuries, are tight end Jeff Loyd (ankle), fullback Johnny Darden (ankle), linebacker Ben Colbert (bruised thigh) and Mike Kiselwick (ankle).

With Merritt and Adams out, the quarterbacking will be up to Lozano and Canyon's Chuck Wright.

County Judge Woody Pond, right, and Canyon Mayor Manly Bryan sign a proclamation in unison naming November as Food and Fiber Abundance Month in Randall County. A food and Fiber Fair begins today and ends late Saturday in the county. The fair is open to the public Saturday.

Kids Inc., Now Ready For Basketball

Registration for Kids Inc., basketball, both boys and girls, begins this afternoon at the old Church of God building at 14th St. and 5th Ave.

According to league officials, registration for 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th graders interested in taking part in the program will be from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. weekdays, and all day Saturday.

Some 150 youngsters are expected to play this year, with the number of teams fielded depending upon how many players are available.

Each team will have nine or ten members, said roundup chairman Max Brummett. The league will furnish jerseys and each player is expected to furnish his or her own shorts and shoes.

Brummett said practice would begin as soon as the teams and coaches were selected. Regular games will begin about January 1, he added.

The new league office being opened at the church building will be on a part-time basis, Brummett said.

Play Day Set For Children On Saturday

Delta Psi Kappa, honorary sorority for women students in physical education at West Texas State University, will sponsor a play day for local children who are in the first through the eighth grades of school.

This will be the third year for the play day, which is really an afternoon of sports and games.

More than 300 children participated in the activities last year.

This year's play day will be from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday in the WTSU activities center.

Admission will be $1.

The 32 women students in the sorority will lead the children in basketball, trampoline, swimming and games.

Proceeds from the play day will be used by the sorority for extra-curricular sports expenses, expenses incurred when women teams from WTSU compete with teams from other universities.

Mrs. Carlile Hosts HD Luncheon Today

By MILDRED TURNER

WHAT HAPPENED TO our lovely Canyon this year? It seems the leaves had hardly turned until they were gone. It could be the recent ice caused them to fall more quickly. I looked out at the leaves falling like rain and felt a little sad, until I began to realize that was God's way of making way for the shining new leaves next spring.

ALTHOUGH WE DID have a little damage to the limbs, like a crystal fairy land. I took a picture of ice-fingered "Happy Hollow" as the sun came up. We laughed at "Junior," our squirrel, as he wrapped his tail around his neck like a scarf, posing for a picture as he ate breakfast.

SPEAKING OF BEAUTY, the varied trees of the Ozarks outdid themselves this year. Their gold, yellow, orange, amber, brown, red, pink mingled with greens left me dazzled. Judy and I went to Arkansas to help Belva move back after seeking her fortune the last six months. She worked there Friday and here Monday so we did not tarry long. She is back at Amarillo National. On Monday night a friend from Rogers, Ark. called and told her the bank was robbed of $30,000 Monday morning! He hastened to tell her she was not a suspect and the pair was caught before they had gone two blocks!

WHILE IN ARKANSAS, we visited my sister, her husband, and daughter, the I. B. Dodsons and Sonja Jayne. Remember when I. B. worked at Taylor & Sons when the store was north of Canyon? They now live out of Springdale on Beaver Lake and White River, a sort of resort area. They are happily redoing this big, old two story house. Their first night their neighbors thought they were noisy and odd to have a house warming at 2 a.m. They did have a house warming, the house was on fire! Faulty wiring in the basement caused a fire downstairs and a lot of excitement upstairs. They are now delighted with the friendly neighborhood and the lovely setting where they live. I. B. likes to sneak out to the lake and fish or work in his hobby garden.

THE PALISADES HOME Demonstration Club met with Estelle (McCarter) Atkinson last Thursday. Vicki had told you about the "wipe out" plaques which Beverly Norman had prepared. The girls painted their pictures on the plaques, wiped them off and had a wonderful time. From all reports, they were very artistic and pretty. (I did not get to attend). Some were of scenes, flowers or animals. Lorraine said her deer looked kinda pregnant. Our club appreciates Beverly's help and patience with us. We are very fortunate to have her in our club. About a dozen ladies were present for this meeting.

TODAY, MARGIE CARLILE, who lives around the bend, up Inman hill, on Carlile corner, is having the Home Demonstration Club. It will be at 11:30; a covered dish luncheon. Becky Hall will present the program "Buying Sense." In this day of high prices this should be real good. There is always a lot of fun and excitement at these club meetings so don't miss it. By the way, the Christmas Tea is December 11 at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Canyon. I will find out if there will be a nursery.

REMEMBER THE PALISADES Board meeting Tuesday night at 7:30.

DID YOU EVER go on a trip without all the muck of packing and preparing? Lena and Lum had retired guests, Seth and Dee Moore, of Anchorage, Alaska, this weekend. They had spent the last four months traveling. They plan to winter in Florida. After touring from coast to coast they will decide where they will retire to live. They have taken a lot of interesting pictures and showed slides at the Edwards'. According to Lena it was almost like taking a trip with them.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, NELLI! In winding up their football season, Greg Moore's team had a picnic, also presented their coach a football jersey with his name on it.

THE CANYON JUNIOR High girls played Fritch recently and won. The Boothe girls, Sharee and Susie, Rhonda Webb and others did great.

WOULD THE MOTORCYCLE racers report on their activities? 622-0701.

MR. AND MRS. Harry Inman, Jack's brother from Garland were weekenders at the Innmans. I called Lorraine for the news and she replied, "Jack mowed the grass!"

I HEARD JOE Lohan was going deer hunting. That's all.

Miller And Culp Homes Are Setting For Jaycee-Ettes' Tasting Tea

By MARY NEAL HENRY

IT HAILED ON November 12th! Someone said it covered the ground in Happy. We had only a few stones fall and then the rain began and the hail was gone. Some also had tornadoes and tornado-like winds. In November! Can you believe that?

THE HAPPY COW-BELLES met on Wednesday of last week for a luncheon in the Forrest Vise Home. Twenty-one ladies attended and brought some of the best food. Joann Patching and Willie Butler helped Ruby with the luncheon and others attending were Vivian Woods, Myra Nell Culp, Othella McGehee, Bernice Hamblen, Mildred Gooch, Delores Wilhelm, Vera Eubanks, Nig Taylor, Judy Shipman, Leona McFarland, Anna Bee Robinson (twisted her arm), Ruth Sims, Billie Pearson, LaNelle Todd, Willa Elliott, Joyce Wheat, myself, and guest, Elen Avenet of Tulsa. We conficted with the Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club's Thanksgiving Dinner and missed those gals. Sorry about that.

VIVIAN WOODS CALLED the meeting to order. Delores Wilhelm read the by-laws and they will be read and approved at the next meeting.....that is the January meeting.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, the CowBelles will entertain their husbands with a Christmas dinner, etc. Plans are still being made, but keep that date in mind.

COWBELLES IS A National Organization. Texas and Kentucky are the two newest states to join. The name of Happy Cow Belles was brought out in the organizing of Kentucky and they really like it.

TO BE A charter member of Texas and have your name on the charter, you must pay your dues ($10) by January 1st. Simply mail them to our treasurer, Linda McDonald, Rt. 2, Tulsa 79088, while you are thinking about it. We want you to be a charter member of Texas.

TEXAS WILL HOST the national convention this year in San Antonio, on January 25 through the 28th. The main days are Thursday and Friday, January 25th and 26th. Texas is busy getting ready for this. Busy getting organized for one thing.

SUNNYHILL HOME DEMONSTRATION Club met with Barbara Danner on Thursday morning, one week late due to the weather. Coffee and cake were served to Gwen Tucke, her daughter Melissa, and her nephew, Helen Bryan and Rowdy, Jo Hand, Phyllis Bryan, Maurine Allison, Shirley Williams and myself and our agent, Becky Hall. Welcome back, Shirley. Shirley was a member for years and we are glad that she is back with us.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM COUNCIL were read and we added one to the Health and Safety. "That imported beef be inspected and have to meet the same standards as U.S. Beef." Also I think it should be stamped "imported" if it is. So the people may know.

MAURINE ALLISON IS our new council representative.

BECKY HAD A good program on shopping and in addition to the program, we had a skit. (You could see yourself.) The skit depicted shopping errors. And we had fun.

HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES held their annual Tasting Tea and Home Tour in the homes of Mary Jane Miller and Myra Nell and Everett Culp.

GUESTS REGISTERED FOR door prizes at Mary Jane's and were served coffee or wassail in the dining area. The table was covered in a white felt cloth painted with Thanksgiving scenes of pumpkins, etc., and decked in a centerpiece of large round candles and greenery.

IN THE DEN were two tables of tasting goodies. Homemade quilts covered the tables centered with Raggedy Ann dolls.

JAYCEE-ETTES WERE available to show you through both homes. Myra Nell Culp's home was also the scene of the bake sale. Baked goods were gone by the second hour, but everyone enjoyed seeing Myra Nell's beautiful home. Both Myra Nell and Mary Jane looked lovely in their hostess gowns.

DOOR PRIZES AND winners were: Swedish Tea Ring, Mrs. Joe Dreup of Nazareth; cake, Mrs. Jill White; plaque, Sue Collins; dried arrangements, Mary Stewart of Amarillo and Mary Johnson; Three Point Velvet Lotion, Ruby Vise; and Honey cookies, Polly Walters.

CHARLES AND MARY McCaslin recently traveled to San Antonio for a holiday weekend.

JOHNNY McCUNE, DAVID McDonald, and Todd Bryan spent Wednesday night of last week with Clay Simons.

BILT RITE FARMS sold around ninety barrows at their sale last Monday evening.

THE HAPPY BOOSTER Club ran a concession stand at the hog sale to raise funds for their projects.

CHARLES EVANS IS in the Osteopathic Hospital in Amarillo.

LOUIE BONDS HAD major surgery at Northwest Texas Hospital this week.

HAPPY COWBOYS PUT me through a nervous week for nothing. Whoever thought the final score would be Happy 63 and Sundown 0. Sundown had a sign as long as their bleachers that said, "We've come too far to quit now." And I admired their spirit, but I'm sure glad we had more of it, and more of whatever else. Chris Pearson made four touchdowns which probably didn't hurt his scoring any. Johnny Payne made one touchdown. Offield (Teddy) made two touchdowns, Looney, one, and Hargrave one touchdown and kicked seven extra points. They ran the first conversion for the extra two instead of one, I suppose. It was a pass from Mark to Teddy. An absolutely beautiful game. We didn't even score the fourth quarter. Cowboys, we are proud of you!

WHEN MARK HARGRAVE made that last touchdown, he jumped three feet in the air as tickled as if it had been the winning touchdown. Couldn't help but be amused.

THE KIDS ALL went to the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall for their eats and entertainment after the game. (That was after they put Coach Criswell in the shower. The Cowboys thought that the highlight of the evening.) "Seven Days a Week" played and sang for the group. A good crowd attended. More than just Baptists furnished the sandwiches, I understand.

DAN AND PENNY Rahlfs were in the drug store on Saturday afternoon. They have a girl, Dana Catherine, born November 2nd at High Plains Baptist Hospital, but she was home with grandmother. Dana Catherine weighed 7 pounds 10 ounces and has had excellent care since her arrival. Grandparents are O.H. and Betty Rahlfs and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Shewbert of Dalhart.

TRICIA LOU HARGRAVE was seven years old last week and she had a party at the Corner Drug on Saturday afternoon. (You wouldn't believe how well behaved those little ones were. I must not have been the only mother that said, "Listen here....." They sang "Happy Birthday" and "How old are you now" and "She's seven years old." Tricia Lou received many exciting gifts. The birthday cake was chocolate and depicted the story of the Wizard of Oz. Pat Sims made it and had the yellow brick road leading to the castle. Dorothy, Toto, the Cowardly Lion, the Scarecrow, and the Tin Woodman were all traveling up the yellow brick road toward Oz. Angelique Henry, Joanna Hurst, Vickie Todd, Melissa Null, LaRae Sims, Genie Jackson, Karen Danner, Cari Greenfield, Tanya Geauthreaux, Mandi Shipman, Paula Dustman, Grandmother Joyce Wheat, aunt Willa Elliott, and of course Pat helped celebrate. Everyone was served ice cream and cake and the drink of their choice.

CHARLENE DUSTMAN OF Amarillo brought Paula down so that she could help Tricia Lou celebrate. Paula and Cari both had on long dresses.

WILLA JANE McMANIGAL and Jim and Christi were at Lubbock for the weekend for Tech's homecoming. Willa Jane sent Tricia a gift.

SEVERAL HAPPY FOLKS have gone pheasant hunting in Springfield, Colo. Willa and Si Elliott left Saturday night. Jimmie and Don Ed Middleton and Mildred and Willard Middleton left Saturday morning. Tillie and Ira Scott of Hereford went with this group. Cone and Sweetie Johnson and Margaret and Jack Middleton also went. They were snow bound for a while, but they didn't let that keep them from having a good time. The pheasant population did not decrease.

MAX AND KATHY Middleton stayed with their great grandmother Holloway.

MAGGIE DOSHIER OF Ira near Snyder was buried on Sunday, November 5. Maggie was a sister to Bob, Bill and John Sims of Happy. She had three children, two of whom lived in Snyder near her. She is also survived by two sisters, Marie Hulet from the Valley and Pearl

Crocker of Waco. Neither's health permitted them to attend. Bob Sims, Ruth, Wendy and Jim Bob Sims, the Burl Sims family, Bill, Mable, Pat, Carol, and Carl Sims, and John, Lena and Eugene Sims from Happy attended the funeral.

FRED AND DUTCH Hall lost their grandson recently in Kermit, Texas. Fred and Dutch live on the Campbell farm and their grandson had spent most of last summer with them. Many of the neighbors knew him because of his many visits. Phillip Hall, twelve years old, was on his way to his junior high school on his bike when he was accidentally hit by a car. Phillip, known as Peanut, never regained consciousness. Our sympathy to Fred and Dutch.

THE ROYAL AMBASSADORS helped in the morning services on Sunday. They ushered, handed out bulletins. Some of them gave the RA Motto, the Pledge and read the Missionary Prayer Calendar. They were all recognized at the end of the service. And they sat on the front seat. Brother Paul grinned from "ear to ear" and said that was the quietest that he'd ever had them. Part of that grin was pride. Brother Paul is good for those boys.

ON DECEMBER 17, the Children's Choirs and Youth Group will present a Christmas Program entitled "The Greatest Christmas Story of All."

HAPPY JAYCEES ARE hauling off the limbs for the senior citizens of Happy. They said they'd continue as long as possible.

HAPPY RA'S ARE going to clean limbs out of some yards on Wednesday afternoon. Someone seemed doubtful that this was possible. They must not have had any boys.

SUNNYHILL HOME DEMONSTRATION Club is touring kitchen design and interiors today and dining out for their Thanksgiving dinner.

MARY ANN SIMS presided over a joint meeting of nine Rainbow Assemblies in Amarillo on Tuesday evening at Amarillo Masonic Lodge. This meeting honored the Supreme Service and Supreme Inspector of Texas, Mrs. Martha Marie Whitfield and her husband, Mr. Victor C. Whitfield. A large percentage of Rainbow Girls from Happy attended this meeting in formal attire. Others participating in the evening program were Cathy Parker and Brenda Parker.

JAN HENSON SPENT the weekend with us. She's a doll. We left her here Saturday night waiting on our family when we went to the Grand Cross Mystic Banquet in Canyon. She went to church with us Sunday morning. Then it rained Sunday afternoon and they were delighted that they might just have to stay on, but the roads were fine in a few hours. I enjoy those girls.

SHERI HENRY AND Mary Ann Sims participated in the program at the Grand Cross Banquet in Canyon on Saturday evening. Pauline Wesley, Ruth Sims, Catherine Miller, Ora Mary Sims, Gracie Lee Tiley and I also went. Nine assemblies from this area were represented. One lady I know from Hereford introduced me to her husband and he said, "Are you Tom's wife?" (Small world.) Clara and I laughed. I visited with several old friends. Cortez Dowlen, our Grand Visitor, welcomed the group.

CHERYL ANN SCHAEFER Morris was married Saturday night at the Methodist Church in Happy. The church was filled, I'm told, and it was a beautiful wedding. Did you see that picture and article in Sunday's paper? I'll save it for you Colleen, and you can come over and visit.

COLLEEN AND MELVIN Schaeffer left after the wedding for Houston to attend the Farm Bureau's convention there.

JANICE SHIPMAN WILL be getting married the thirteenth of January. Janice is engaged to Jesse Harley Walton.

JESSE C. LANE underwent vascular surgery again on Monday afternoon. This makes three surgeries in two weeks for Jesse. Remember her with your cards and prayers.

LEE DOUGHTERY WAS hospitalized on Monday of last week with appendicitis. By the time they decided that was really what was wrong, Lee was better. He is at home again and in school this week.

MRS. MARION COOK was hospitalized on Thursday of last week. Remember her.

MARGARET MURDOCK WAS hospitalized on Monday night of this week.

RANDALL COUNTY'S FOOD and Fiber Abundance Program is this Saturday at the Rex Reeves Elementary School.

You still have time to bake a loaf of bread (yeast) and enter it by 3 p.m. on Friday. Canyon Garden Club is sponsoring a contest for dried arrangements. This might be your category.

THEY ARE HAVING an excellent beef demonstration. You want to stop by and see it. They have an animal to take apart and show you just where each cut of beef comes from and more instruction and information. Don't miss it! Many put endless hours in on this project.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 19, the Happy Rainbow Girls meet at 2:30 at Ruth and Aden Mann's home to prepare and distribute their Thanksgiving boxes to the shut-ins and senior citizens of Happy and surrounding area. They do this each year and the visits are well worth the time and effort.

CANYON OESIS planning a bazaar on December 2nd at the old bank building on the square (that is going way back). They'll have lots of pretties for sale. They want to finish their kitchen. This group has really worked. Canyon Rainbow Girls will serve sandwiches and drinks during the day. Go by and Christmas shop and eat and drink!

MY NEW TELEPHONE number is 764-2158. It is correct in the Mid-Plains Directory, but not in the Happy Directory. Write it on your calendar or check book or something you don't throw away and call me your news. Everyone likes to read about everyone else.

I'LL BE IN Gruver this weekend at the grand opening of their new bank. My friend, Phyllis Bradley, has been appointed number one teller. Have to help her celebrate!

See ya!
Mary Neal

THE CRAFTS GROUP OF AAUW will meet tomorrow at the home of Ada V. Clark at 9:30 a.m.

Members who wish to join the group should bring handwork or needlepoint.

I personally always love to go into Ada V.'s home, for she has so many clever items that she has crafted. The group should be getting started just in time for Christmas giving.

A CLEVER CHRISTMAS

CARD GREETING may be sent to those on your list by tearing a ragged edge square or rectangle of wall paper. Inside you may write—or have printed—the following message: "The bank won't give me credit; my budget makes me scheme; I can't offset the debit; as Scotch as I may seem; Not to send the Season's Greetings; Would never do at all; So to wish you a Merry Christmas; I tore the paper off the wall!"

Each line on the sheet ends at the designated semi-colons, then your name goes at the bottom.

This idea is credited to Louise Vaughan of Wellington.

TRAVELING IN TEXAS THIS MONTH? If so, you may note that the autumn colors reach their peak in the forestlands of East Texas—and foliage trails are charted around Winnsboro. Related events include a tour of pioneer homes, trail ride into the woods, fall flower show, and old-time foodstuffs like smoked hams and sorghum syrup.

FREE BULLETINS AT THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU (4th and Polk in Amarillo) include the following: "The Concern for Quality," "Home Improvements," "Earn Money at Home Schemes," "Your Credit" and, of course, numerous others.

IF YOU WILL SEND me some information on upcoming events in your club spectrum I will be glad to post them here. You may send them to me at home—1004 8th Ave.—or to me in care of The NEWS.

Family Activities Planned At AC

The Family Activities Group of University Wives, Etc., has planned an evening of recreation and fun at the WTSU Activities Center on Friday evening, beginning at 7:30. There will be volleyball and games for children, as well as other family activities.

The group is open to families of faculty and staff of West Texas State University. Those wishing further information may contact Mrs. Sandra Sparling, chairman, 655-4530.

There's no parade, but these five horses are interested in something. Perhaps it's the fact that the first horse races are scheduled in early December at Panhandle Downs in Randall County. Fifteen horses call the Downs home now.

Wildlife Artist Hosts Art Group

Wildlife artist James Jokerst and Mrs. Jokerst hosted a Wednesday, Nov. 8, gathering of the art interest group of University Wives, Etc. in his home studio near Canyon.

Jokerst told the group that he strives for accuracy and believes an understanding of the subject and its habitat are essential for success. A college education in wildlife and ecology has given him an excellent background in animal and plant association and anatomy. Having developed awareness and a sensitive eye for observation, he chooses incidental detail only to bring out the individual habitat and focuses upon a realistic execution of the subject.

Jokerst's pastel portraits of wildlife, described as "authentic in detail and delicate in perception," are shown in collections, offices and homes throughout the United States. They are currently on exhibition at TeePee Western Store in Amarillo, Crossroads of Sports, Inc., New York City, and Phillips Marina Galleries in Lubbock.

About 16 women attended the program, according to chairman Mrs. Ann Carlisle.

The group also met yesterday morning for a workshop in the Activities Center at WTSU.

AWOL Soldiers Admit Theft

Two AWOL soldiers, captured earlier this fall by a South Amarillo housewife in the kitchen of her home, pleaded guilty to reduced charges this week in Randall County court.

Michael Joe Clay and Gary Duwayne Hering, who were originally charged with burglary, faced charges in county court of theft under $50. Clay was specifically charged with theft of peanut butter and bread and other food substances and Hering faced charges of theft of cookies.

Randall County Judge Woody Pond, after hearing the guilty pleas, set Hering's sentence at 1 year probation and a $1 fine plus court costs.

Clay was sentenced to 1 year probation and a probated $500 fine.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Robert McClendon said the two soldiers face court martial proceedings for going absent without leave when they are returned to their Army units.

Basketball Prospects More Thorns Than Roses

The Canyon High School girl Eagles got off to a good regular season start Tuesday night by drubbing Valley High 59-43.

It was the fourth straight win for the girls who earlier had taken three practice scrimmages with Plainview Clinic, Hale Center and Darrouzett Clinic.

Kim Killingsworth led the victory march with a total of 20 points. She was followed by Sheryl Gunter with 17 and Mindy Sterenberg with 10.

Also playing Tuesday, the junior varsity girls downed their Valley High counterparts by a score of 50-42.

In an afternoon game Tuesday, the sophomore girls defeated the Alamo Catholic High School varsity team by a score of 46-18, with Mary Lisa McBride dumping 23 points through the hoop.

Friday night, the varsity and junior varsity girls meet Petersburg in games to be played at the Canyon Gym.

In an earlier interview with The News, coaches B. B. Kendrick and Bob Schneider talked about the new basketball season and what Eagle fans could expect.

Experience, or possibly the lack of it, may well be the greatest single obstacle Canyon High School's two varsity basketball teams will have to overcome in the current season.

According to both coaches, Canyon will be depending heavily on recruits from last year's junior varsity squads.

The boys' team will boast one returning starter with the loss from the girls' state championship squad hitting 100 per cent.

Kendrick said Gary Gerber, a five-foot, eight-inch guard was his only leftover starter from 1971. He will have the services of three returning squadmen, Guards Wayne Pitt and Ed Lair and forward Bill Moore. Pitt stands 5-8 with Lair and Moore hitting 6-0 and 6-1 respectively.

Moore, Lair and Gerber were also members of the varsity football team and all reported for practice well behind other members of the hardwood team, the coach said.

To fill the important center post, Kendrick said he would call on Bob Counsellor and Ronnie Cates, both 6-4 and members of last year's junior varsity team. Both also play football.

Another JV player last year, Gary Don Byars, at 6-3, will be a prime candidate for one of the starting forward spots.

According to coach Kendrick, the schedule for this year has been set up to include several 2-A schools so that boys' and girls' teams may play on the same nights. Playing most of the games on Tuesday and Friday nights, several of the dates offer varsity and B-team boys and varsity and B-team girls.

Included this year are 4-A matches with all four Amarillo schools, Hereford, Pampa and Lubbock High School. Teams in 2-A include Spearman, Floydada, Friona, Phillips and Dimmitt.

"Most of the larger schools do not have girls' basketball," the coach said. "The 2-A schools do." Kendrick said Levelland and Perryton should be the front runners in District 3-A this year, with each team having three returning starters. "They have to be big," he added.

Dumas will return four starters, Kendrick said of the team beaten by the Eagles twice last year.

According to the coach, Muleshoe would be in the same boat as Canyon, short on experience and not enough height.

Levelland will start one 6-6 player and two who reach 6-5. Perryton stands tall with one returnee hitting 6-4 and two at 6-5. Perryton also has a pair of 6-8 giants coming off the B-team, Kendrick said.

The coach said he believed his boys "wanted to play and had a lot of heart." He added that Eagle fortunes would depend mainly on how well the boys "came around and wanted to win."

Last year the Eagles won 13 while losing 15. Their district record was five wins and five losses.

Schedules are now available, the coach said, and include both billfold size and window posters.

"We have new warm-ups this year... a new look and I think the kids will give an all-out effort," said Kendrick in asking team support from the townspeople. "I think we'll be able to play with them... They'll have to beat us."

The girls' basketball team, with no returning starters from last year, will also rely on former JV players, says coach Schneider.

Of 13 girls on the squad in 1971, 10 were lost through graduation. The three returnees include Kim Killingsworth, a senior forward, Susan Hull, a senior guard, and Carla Rathoff, a junior guard. Another senior guard, Pebbie Luquette, has joined the team after missing the last season due to knee surgery.

Candidates from last year's JV team are Mendy Sterenberg and Diane Harp, both senior forwards. Other JV recruits expected to lend a hand are Sheryl Gunter, Alisha Nelson and Lynn Davis, also front court players.

According to coach Schneider, Sheryl Gunter is returning to action after knee surgery kept her off the JV team most of last season. He said the junior would be used in the post position.

Schneider said he would use former JV player Lynn Davis at both the forward and guard positions. Of Alisha Nelson, the coach said, "We expect good play

Kim Johnson Is Chosen Posse Queen

Kim Johnson, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson, McCormick Road, was chosen as Queen of the United Sheriff Poses and Riding Clubs at their annual banquet Saturday night. The contestants were judged on their appearance, personality and poise in addition to their horsemanship abilities which were performed that afternoon. Kim rode her sorrel quarterhorse mare, Dama Poso Laurean, during this contest part.

Kim Johnson

Kim is a member of the Rolling Hills Riding Club of Amarillo which is one of fourteen riding clubs in the area belonging to the U.S.P. & R.C. She has been riding horses in competition for over eight years and was awarded the High Point Trophy for Intermediate Girls at the United Playday Finals in Amarillo last September. She also competed in the World's Championship Playday Finals held in Fort Worth last month and brought home several ribbons.

Kim is a sophomore at Canyon High School, an honor student and a member of the Marching Band.

from her." Being "not tall" seems to be the second greatest shortcoming this year said the coach who apparently has his work cut out for him in trying to match last year's record.

The tallest girl on the team is Rhonda Umberson who stands about 5-9½. According to Schneider, the average starting height of the girls' team is about 5-5 or 5-6.

Lack of experience will possibly cause more problems than lack of height, says the coach. "We were not as tall last year," he added.

Schneider did say that despite his players lack of varsity experience, most had played a lot of basketball as members of the JV team. "After a few games we should be o.k.," said the coach. "We have one advantage and that is quickness." He went on to say that he would rather have small quick players than big slow ones. "Of course it's ideal when they are both big and quick," he said.

Judy McBroom, a junior, and Cindy Bullock, a senior, are other 1971 JVs expected to give the champs a shot in the arm. "And there are others who should help us," Schneider said.

The coach said the team will face the toughest schedule possible, including three tournaments. They are the Slaton Holiday Tournament, Talia Invitational and the Sunray Invitational.

The coach said the schedule was full with no open dates this year. Teams to be played include Spearman, Claude, Friona, and a new opponent, Tahoka.

Because the 3-A girls' district is made up of only Canyon and Muleshoe, Schneider said he had tried to get the toughest non-conference schedule possible. He added that other schools in the district, such as Dumas, were starting girls' basketball in junior high and should have varsity teams within the next two to three years. This, with the possibility that other schools now playing varsity ball may return to class 3-A, should eventually enlarge the conference, said Schneider.

Muleshoe, the only conference roadblock to the girls' team, has four or five starters returning and should be stronger than last year. According to the coach, his girls do not play them until late January, giving him more time to bring his girls around. "By then we should have the experience we need," he said.

Trucker Admits Cattle Theft

Donald Eddie McKinney, charged with cattle theft in connection with the recent theft of $10,000 worth of cattle from Randall County Feed Yard, pleaded guilty to the charge this week.

McKinney, of Mississippi, had been arrested a week earlier in Lufkin.

He appeared before 181st District Judge Don Dean this week and admitted the theft. Judge Dean set McKinney's sentence at 6 years. The sentence was probated.

During the proceedings, McKinney testified that he was conned into stealing the cattle by an unidentified man in a bar in Amarillo, according to Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen.

Dowlen said McKinney testified that he did steal the cattle but at the urging of the accomplice, who later bilked him out of $300.

McKinney was one of four men who appeared before Judge Dean this week and pleaded guilty to various charges.

Steve Price pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery, but sentencing was delayed pending the results of a probation report.

Michael Sweatt, charged with possession of marijuana, pleaded guilty to the charge and received a four-year probated sentence.

Billy Walker received a three-year probated sentence on charges of burglary after he pleaded guilty.

Gene Howe News

Thanks To Many, Chili Rousing Success

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

THANK YOU, BEAUTIFUL people! When the last light had been turned off at Gene Howe last Friday evening at about 10:30, close to 1600 lovely people had come to eat chili and visit with their friends and neighbors. Gwyn Sellers, chairman of the supper, reports that 570 pounds of chili, 100 pounds of beans and 480 hot dogs were prepared—every last bit consumed, too. No leftovers this year, in fact, ran a little short in places. She has already made a notation to her successor to "think big(ger)" next year. A very special thank you to all who came. Our little school building, was filled to capacity.

Gene Howe people are extra special people, and this fact was substantiated in full by the interest and support exhibited in their attendance and assistance Friday night.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Parent Teacher Association extends a sincere thank you to all who helped with the supper, including (but not limited to) the ladies who cooked; the ladies who helped with the serving; the men who lifted and toted those heavy cookers and pans all evening; the set-up crew; the take-down crew; and most certainly, the clean-up crew.

PAUSE IN YOUR reading right now and pat yourself on the back—whether you simply came, whether you worked, or whether you just bought a ticket to help out—each of you had a part in another successful project.

WINNERS IN THE ticket sales contests were many. Mrs. Woodward's third grade class won in the kindergarten through third grade division selling 92 tickets. Mrs. Langen's 4th grade class and Mrs. Taylor's 5th grade class tied in the fourth through sixth grade division, with the students in each of these rooms selling a total of 165 tickets per room. Each of these three rooms have been treated to banana split parties—courtesy of the PTA.

CASH PRIZES WERE awarded to the students selling the most tickets as follows: In the kindergarten through third grade division, Debbie McKinney took First place honors. Darin Ives was Second place winner. Darla Campbell, Keith Klein and John David Gray graciously shared Third place honors, as they each sold the same amount of tickets as the other. Teresa Polvadore and Wayne Wallace tied for Fourth place. In the fourth through sixth grade division, Cindy Todd took First place; Shonda Palmer Second place, Kelli Campbell Third place, and Dena Harp fourth place. You have just read the names of some of the greatest salesmen and saleswomen with their music," he says.

Nelson says, his new musical career is more satisfying than his teenage idol days.

"It's really nice to go into a place where people are expecting to see what's happened to that kid they saw grow up on television, 'Little Ricky,' and then watch him blow their minds with his music," he says.

Tickets for the concert are priced at $4 for students and $5 for adults. WT students with entertainment cards will be admitted free. Tickets are on sale at the Activities Center box office.

Secretaries' Group Earns Award

Tierra Blanca Chapter of The National Secretaries Association (International) has earned its fourth Chapter Professional Development Award. The award signifies professionalism achieved through educational programs which bring knowledge, attitudes, and performance to higher levels of member participation, on an earned point system per member for the period of June 1, 1971 through May 15, 1972.

Mrs. Zelma Noel, 1971-72 president of the Tierra Blanca Chapter, secretary for Williams and Cox, attorneys, announced that the award would be shared with the local membership at its regular chapter meeting at 7:30 tonight at the West Texas State Bank. It will be officially presented by Mrs. Louise Gunther, the present chapter president, NSA, who is secretary to Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative.

The speaker for tonight's meeting will be a representative of the Social Security Administration Office in Amarillo, who will speak on social security and health benefits.

WTSU Program Draws Interest From Ohioan

West Texas State University's innovative performance-based teacher education program is becoming widely known throughout the country.

Dr. Joseph Wetmore, chairman of the department of education at Ohio Wesleyan University, plans to be on campus today to study the Teacher Center Project in the College of Education.

Dr. Jim Kidd, new dean of the College of Education, said Ohio Wesleyan has been working for about a year on a performance-based teacher education program.

Wetmore heard about the West Texas State project last summer when Dr. Emmitt D. Smith, then dean of the College of Education, spoke on WTSU's program at a meeting of educators in Evansville, Ind.

anywhere, as these youngsters sold close to four hundred tickets themselves. Could easily be said they have exhibited enthusiastic and effective support for a worthwhile project.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Willetta Johnson on the 19th. She says she doesn't mind being twenty-nine (again) at all.

DAN WHIPPLE, SON of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Whipple, didn't mind aging a year on the 10th either. In fact, he and friends had a grand time with a play-time birthday party. When they weren't playing boy-type games, they were eating boy-type goodies. Randy Whipple, Dale Bural, Kent Davis, Kyle Balke, Fred Allen Thomas, Toby Cox, David Bromley, Wayne Wallace, Kevin and Kelly Dozier, Rusty Riley and Marty Mulherin were only too glad to help Dan celebrate.

A GET WELL message to Mrs. Bill Edwards. Sarah spent a few days in the hospital recently. She is home now and feeling just fine.

THAT BANDAGE DECORATING the chin claimed by Mark Longhofer is covering a total of eighteen stitches. Mark is rather vague in the telling of how he acquired those eighteen stitches, but assuredly feels they have not slowed him down any. His mom and dad, Pat and Don, might not have viewed the situation as calmly as Mark, but they did manage to make a dash from the emergency room to the polls in time to stand in line to vote.

PHYLLIS HICKS, CO-OWNER of "The Matchbox" and wife of Johnny, who live on Sunburst, recently presented a program and workshop to 36 members of Arts Unlimited on the care and feeding of Terrariums. Webster says that a terrarium is a glass container chiefly or wholly enclosed for growing plants—we say terrariums are a lot of fun. Phyllis helped with the planting of these miniature gardens; and, after the tiny plants were snugly tucked into their new home, teeny ceramic animals or pretend mushrooms were put in place to further enhance the view. Phyllis pointed out that the "adornments" could be changed with the seasons or the holidays. These terrariums are fascinating and enjoyable—a dab of charcoal, a bit of soil, a few plants, and a little imagination combine to make a unique and personalized arrangement.

THERE WAS VERY little slumbering and absolutely no sleeping done at Pam Thrash's slumber party recently held in observance of her birthday. Tammy Thompson, Kay Tow, Leslie Bybee, Christie Allen, Teresa True, Janice Delaney and Lisa Erwin shared birthday greetings, pizza and the haunted house with Pam. Many happies, Pam.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT IS going around—would you believe another ball season is upon us—this time it's basketball. The girls are playing this time. Loydell Tennison is coaching the third and fourth grade team which won over Highland Park 22-8. Coach O'Neal Call's fourth grade team won over St. Mary's with a score of 15-2. Jean Ritchie and Luther Lawless are each coaching teams composed of fifth grade girls. Marylon Baker is coaching a sixth grade team, and Arlean Todd's sixth grade team rounds out the roster for Gene Howe. Mrs. Todd's girls have played two games and won two games. This is the first time out for a lot of these girls, but enthusiasm and determination to play their bestest rack up a lot of points for their side, whether or not same are indicated on the score board.

BE IT A case of enthusiasm or determination or simply questionable sanity, the men in the Mulherin family ignored the snow and the cold to get some end-of-the-season fishing in at Red River recently. Mart's guest, Troy Thompson, caught himself a fine trout brought home for display purposes. The rest of what the group purportedly caught were eaten. David Early, son of Wayne, joined with Mart and Guy in the grocery gathering. Wayne didn't.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall. Troyce. 352-6053
